

MESD may back out of annexation

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

A plan to annex St. Clair County property adjacent to Madison city boundaries may be in jeopardy, it was disclosed Tuesday night to the City Council.

The obstacle arose with a letter the Metro East Sanitary District (MESD) sent April 16 to the Illinois American Water Co., saying the district is not in favor of annexation proceedings by Madison. The city has agreed to pay $214,000 for extension of water service south of the city.

WALTER GREATHOUSE, top MESD executive, said in the letter the board "will take necessary legal action" and "will in no way issue" an easement permit sought by the water company to install a 12-inch water main over sanitary district property to the city's newly-annexed areas.

Without this permit, several aldermen said, the entire plan to property to annexed areas, including the busy Gateway Truck Stop on Illinois Route 203, is in limbo until legal issues are resolved.

Acting Mayor Thomas Gordon responded by reading a letter he said he will send to MESD, alleging that the district's negative stand is being taken "without any reasonable purpose or cause other than to assist St. Clair County's interest to set aside or defeat the recent annexations."

MADISON'S LOCATION within Madison County has been cited as potentially diverting annexed commercial properties' tax revenue from St. Clair County confers to the city.

Casper Nighohossian, Madison city attorney, addressed the council, saying that on March 25 he and Gordon attended a meeting of the sanitary district board at which Greathouse and two other board members voted to approve the annexation plan.

Greathouse told the Press-Record yesterday MESD approval had been given so quickly that the sanitary board was not aware the plan included a property takeover costly to St. Clair County. Later realization of the tax cost prompted the decision to oppose any easement for a water line, he said.

THE DISTRICT consists of portions of both Madison and St. Clair counties; three of the five board members reside in Madison County. "I want to wait until John Belkoff becomes mayor (in early May) to take action. I want to do things right instead of expediently," Greathouse said.

Asked whether MESD will initiate litigation against Madison and/or the water company, Greathouse answered, "It looks like it could get that way."

AGREEING THE BOARD did approve the annexation, he said it is not at this point "backing out" of that position "but just wants to slow down and look at things."

"St. Clair County did not like reading in the paper that the county lost money when that (aspect) wasn't discussed" by the sanitary district, Greathouse said.

"Technically," Greathouse continued, "the special meeting (March 25) may not have been official due to the technicality that board members must be notified 48 hours in advance; 48 hours' advance notice was not given."

Gordon asked for and was granted permission to file under the Freedom of Information Act, requesting from the Metro-East Sanitary District all its records and documents affecting the city's annexation of pieces of property by Madison ordinances 1073 and 1077 (Gateway and adjacent property).

THE CITY WILL SEEK all records showing steps of any nature taken by MESD elected or appointed officers, employees or agents regarding the annexations, including actions to resist or set aside the annexations for any reason, since Jan. 1, 1980.

Gordon also received authority to ask for records related to the St. Louis International Raceway and the Stages night club since Jan. 1, 1980, and MESD or St. Clair documents pertaining to the recent annexations by the City of Madison in St. Clair County.

Gordon was granted permission to file requests with St. Clair County for information on past annexations of areas in that county, including territorial acquisitions by the municipalities of Fairview Heights, Belleville, O'Fallon, East St. Louis, Cahokia and Sauget.

AT THE END of the series of requests, Gordon asked the aldermen to approve a general motion for the city to pursue determining the legality of any acts by the sanitary district to stop Madison's expansion to the south.

BELLEVILLE AREA COLLEGE is interested in buying the former GCHS North building.

BAC offering to buy center

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

Belleville Area College has made a proposal to acquire the building being used for Granite City Center from the Granite City School District.

The building, at 4950 Maryville Road, was formerly Granite City High School North, from its opening in August 1973 until June 1983. It has been used for the last two years as Granite City Center, an extension of BAC. The local area is part of the BAC taxing district.

BAC OFFICIALS want to acquire the property so they can do over $6 million in renovation.

"I want to emphasize that this in no way means we are unhappy with our lease arrangement with Unit Nine (Granite City School District)," said Bruce Wissore, president of BAC. "But we need about $6.5 million in improvements at the center, and we have to have tile to the property to apply for state funding to pay for much of it."

Wissore said BAC could get from the state as much as 75 percent of the funding needed for renovations, which would include work on the roof, heating, ventilation and air conditioning.

COLLEGE DISTRICTS qualify for such improvement funds from the state government, but public school districts do not.

To help BAC learn of the community's feelings on needs at GCC, the college has contracted with Public Response Inc. of St. Louis to conduct telephone surveys of Granite City residents over the next few days.

Ron Wright, a representative of Public Response Inc., said each survey contact will take about 15 to 20 minutes to complete. Respondents will be asked what they

Denial of police promotions overturned

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

A legal opinion rendered by Granite City Attorney John Papa Tuesday night overturned an earlier City Council action which denied three promotions in the city's police department.

At the April 16 council meeting, aldermen failed to pass a motion which would have made the following promotions: Glen Wright to captain, Kerry "Kip" Pomeroy to lieutenant and David Anderson to sergeant.

THE PROMOTIONS were to be effective May 1 as a result of the retirement of Captain Harry Mitchell, chief of detectives.

But a communication just sent to the council by Papa said the promotions will take place "regardless of the actions taken by the City Council" because of local laws and state statutes.

"SECTION 2.44.020 of the Granite City Municipal Code provides that the duties of the board (of fire and police commissioners) are as follows: 'The board... shall have charge of all appointments to the fire and police departments and shall conduct and hold all entrance and promotional examinations in the manner required by law.'"

Papa's letter also quoted Section 10-2-1.1, Illinois Revised Statutes, which is incorporated into the city's municipal code.

"Section 10-2-1.15 of that act provides, in pertinent part: 'The board, by its rules, shall provide for promotion in the fire and police departments on the basis of ascertained merit and seniority in service and examination, and shall provide in all cases, where it is practicable, that vacancies shall be filled by promotion.'"

HE FURTHER stated there is "no language" in either the Municipal Code or state law which gives the council authority to approve or disapprove the appointments or promotions made by the board.

"The letters sent by the board... are merely informational and a courtesy extended to the council," the letter reads.

"I have concluded the council has no authority to challenge these promotions and any further attempts to interfere with these promotions would be an improper contravention of local ordinances and state law," Papa's letter said. "Such attempts could also give rise to legal action on behalf of the men promoted for deprivation of their civil rights."

COUNCIL REACTION to the letter was varied.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, 2nd Ward, said there are several state statutes in city hall that aldermen should familiarize themselves with. Sharon Perjak, alderman of the 4th Ward, disagreed with Papa's explanation of what the council action was.

"ALL THE COUNCIL did was to delay the promotions," Perjak said. "It doesn't say anything about the timing of the promotions in the ordinance."

Alderman Jake Varadian, 5th Ward, extended his congratulations to the policemen who will be promoted May 1.

Plans for Nichols airport take off

By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive Editor

Those favoring acquisition of Nichols airport received good news Tuesday when William Nichols said his deadline may be more flexible than he previously stated.

Nichols said if he sees a government group trying to secure the $1 million he wants for the 150-acre tract, he might allow them time to get federal help, providing his wife agrees.

GETTING FEDERAL money could take years and Nichols, 68, had previously let on he wanted a commitment by summer or he would sell the land for industrial use.

Nichols was more flexible Tuesday before a meeting of state and local officials organized by Granite City Mayor-elect Von Dee Cruse.

Included in the meeting held at City Hall were Madison Mayor-elect John Belkoff, members of both the Tri-City Regional Port District and the aeronautics division of the Illinois Department of Transportation, Cruse and Nichols.

RICHARD WARE, IDOT's aviation education and safety chief, said the airport should not be lost because, among other reasons:

- Madison County is expected to be a growth area in the next decade;
- The airport is located near St.

Louis and its many facilities, Collinsville with its convention center plans, Cahokia Mounds with its expansion plans, East St. Louis with its plans for riverfront development involving the Gateway Arch.

Industry often prefers a location near an airport; and

"Some of the land can, in addition to airport use, be used for industry and agriculture."

IF SOLD FOR industrial use, the airspace can not be recovered, Ware said.

"If this goes down the drain, that's it—that's it," Ware said.

Cruse suggested the port authority begin the procedure to buy the land. The federal government would sup-

Funnel reports trigger sirens

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Granite City's network of warning sirens was activated at 5:43 p.m. Tuesday when two unconfirmed sightings of a funnel cloud in the southwest sector of the city were reported by residents. No sirens were sounded in Madison and Venice.

The watch commander on duty at Granite City police headquarters ordered the sirens sounded due to the sighting reports, combined with the severe weather being experienced here at that time.

THE LAST TWO devastating tornadoes to strike Granite City — on April 3, 1981, and May 1, 1983, — both formed on this side of the Mississippi River, a spokesman for the Granite City Emergency Services and Disaster Agency said Wednesday.

Neither tornado, in 1981 or 1983, originated on the Missouri side — in Quicker suspension of drivers proposed

Legislation containing the major recommendations of the Illinois DUI Task Force, including a proposed immediate administrative license suspension policy, was introduced in both the House and Senate April 12. Sponsors include Rep. Sam Wolf of Granite City.

Sec. of State Jim Edgar, who chaired the task force, said the immediate administrative license suspension policy would apply to a driver who has either refused to submit to a chemical test following a DUI arrest, or who is found to have a blood alcohol concentration in excess of the legal limit.

The suspension would go into effect 15 days after the arrest. The driver would have the right to appeal the suspension prior to its effective date.

Twenty-three other states, including four of the five states bordering Illinois, have adopted policies enabling them to remove potentially dangerous drivers from the roads quickly," Edgar said.

Other major provisions include: Increasing the penalty for reckless homicide to a Class 3 felony.

Increasing the penalty for a second or subsequent offense for driving on a revoked or suspended license. If the license was revoked or suspended for DUI, an implied consent violation or reckless homicide, to a Class 4 felony.

Increasing Dram Shop liability from $20,000 to $100,000 per individual and $200,000 per incident. Increasing the penalty for selling, giving or delivering alcohol to an underage person to a Class A misdemeanor.

Providing the prosecution with the same right as the defense to request substitution of a judge in a DUI proceeding.

Increasing reinstatement fees to $30 following a suspension and $50 following a revocation.

Edgar said the legislation would create a uniform citation system with an accounting of all traffic citations issued in the state.

It would enable local units of government to pass ordinances levying up to a 50 percent surcharge on fines for DUI. The revenue would be used for local DUI Programs. And it would require the retail liquor industry to provide server training, and require that servers be certified by the state.

1040X can correct income tax returns

Errors on previously filed tax returns can be corrected by filing an amended return, the Internal Revenue Service said this week.

"If you discover that you failed to report some income, failed to claim tax credits or deductions, or erroneously claimed deductions or credits to which you were not entitled, you can file to correct these errors," a spokesman said at Springfield.

"However, it is not necessary to file an amended return to correct addition and subtraction errors. These are automatically corrected by computers at IRS service centers when the returns are processed."

"It is also not necessary to file an amended return if you discover you failed to submit a required schedule. If this is the case, IRS will write you to request this schedule or attachment."

The amended return is filed on Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. This can be used to correct any previously filed Form 1040, 1040A or 1040EZ.

Form 1040X must be filed within three years from the date of the original return or within two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later, the IRS said.

Form 1040X and instructions may be obtained by using the order form in the tax forms package, or by calling IRS toll-free at 1-800-424-1040.

Smith start-up progressing here

Lower sales of passenger car frames in Milwaukee and start-up costs at the newly-reopened automotive structural plant in Granite City have affected first-quarter results from continuing operations at A.O. Smith Corp., Thomas I. Dolan, chairman and chief executive officer, says.

As a consequence, both sales and earnings were below the first quarter of 1984.

Dolan remains confident about 1985 and repeated a forecast made earlier this year that earnings from continuing operations in 1985 will be as good as, if not better than, 1984.

In the first quarter of this year, the continuing businesses had sales of $228,646,000 and earnings of $7,313,000, or 99 cents per share, compared with 1984 first-quarter sales of $246,629,000 and profits of $11,103,000, or $1.50 per share.

Smith's net earnings in the first quarter, including both continuing and discontinued operations, amounted to $10,193,000, or $1.37 per share, compared with profits of $7,893,000 or $1.05 per share a year ago.

The difference in net and continuing earnings involved recognition of tax credits related to the 1984 discontinuance of agricultural businesses. These credits in the first quarter of 1985 amounted to earnings of $2,880,000, or 38 cents per share. Discontinued operations reported a loss of $3,300,000, or 45 cents per share, in the first quarter of last year.

Sales of most units of the company were about level with 1984 in the quarter except for the Automotive Products Co., where sales fell due to the scheduled gradual phase-out of passenger car frames.

Shipments of certain new products, specifically frames for new General Motors and Chrysler trucks and front engine cradles for the new Ford Taurus and Mercury Sable passenger cars, have not yet begun but are scheduled for 1985 and 1986.

Earnings at the Applied Electric Products Co. and the Water Products Co. were slightly ahead in the first quarter compared with 1984. Automotive Products reported lower profits because of reduced sales volume and the planned start-up costs at the Granite City plant, which is being readied for production of the Ford and Mercury passenger car cradle and a Chrysler truck frame.

Shipments of the auto cradle will begin in early summer of this year and the truck frame in early 1986.

In the meantime, production workers are being hired and trained and the supervisory staff here is trying out new machinery used in manufacture of the products.

Metalsa S.A., a Mexican affiliate which produces automotive structural products, had a strong first quarter and reported a good increase in profits.

CHARGED BY COUNTY ON POSSESSION OF CANNABIS

Richard L. Martin, 21, of 2730 Harding Blvd. was arrested April 14 for possession of cannabis. Sheriff deputies responded to a report of shots being fired near Chouteau Island. Upon arriving, they aided Granite City police, who were in pursuit of a vehicle. The auto was stopped when the deputies blocked the canal levee road.

Martin, the driver, was taken into custody and later released on bond. Two others in the car were not charged.

Four-diamond rating for area Hilton Inn

The Hilton Inn and Conference Center in Collinsville, during the first year of operation, has been selected to receive the AAA Four-Diamond Award for 1985 — a high rating for a hotel, motel or resort — the American Automobile Association has announced. It was chosen from more than 17,000 AAA-approved accommodations in the U.S., Canada, the Caribbean and Mexico.

A four-diamond rating is awarded only to exceptional properties which "significantly exceed AAA requirements in most physical and operational categories," and is rarely awarded to a hotel in its first year of operation.

A total of 1,245, or about seven percent of all the establishments, received Four-Diamond awards for 1985.

MAN ENTERS BUILDING CARRYING TWO RIFLES

A man carrying two automatic rifles entered William Blakely's Blake's Lounge in Eagle Park Acres on April 18. Witnesses told deputies that when the gunman looked around as if seeking someone, patrons ran out the back door and some lay on the floor of the lounge to escape possible injury.

Whoever was the potential target was not present, and the rifle-toting suspect now being sought left in a black Pontiac auto.

BATTERY IS ALLEGED

John P. Moore, 19, of 114 Holiday Mobile Home Park, was charged with battery at 2:05 a.m. Saturday, following an incident in the 4700 block of the Kirkpatrick Homes. Robert D. Carroll, 4912 Kirkpatrick Homes, alleged being beaten by Moore, reports said.

Two sisters and brother say they miss one another

Gina, Dana and James were removed from their family when the multiple fractures suffered by James were identified as possible abuse. Five-year-old Gina and two-year-old Dana showed no signs of physical abuse, but it was obvious they were in a deprived environment. Ten-month-old James has been treated for his injuries and is now in good health.

Because of a shortage of foster homes, Gina, Dana and James had to be placed in three separate foster homes. These black children are not even in the same community and this makes family visits difficult, according to Michael Miller, a social worker with the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

The mother has some health problems that limit her ability to care for her children. In addition, she is also the product of a turbulent and unstable family. DCFS has provided service to this family for several years. Gina, Dana and James' mother has made some progress but severe problems still remain, a spokesman said.

Gina is a pleasant, talkative child. She attends kindergartens and receives help for speech problems. She is active and needs more attention and reinforcement than she received from her natural family.

Dana also suffers from the effect of her environment. She is a quiet child but is more outgoing when she is with her sister and brother.

James was crawling and standing until his injuries limited his movements.

Miller is seeking a foster home where the three children could be part of the same family. There is a shortage of foster homes for children of all ages and the need is crucial for sibling groups and black infants and toddlers.

All foster parents must be licensed by DCFS. Licensing requirements include that at least one parent be gainfully employed. Each child must also have a bed and an adequate amount of space in a bedroom.

Foster parents are paid a monthly board rate ranging from $20 for an infant to $259 for a child over the age of 12 years.

Jane Heathcote at 876-8965 can be contacted by prospective foster parents.

Zoning board to hear mobile home requests

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will convene May 7 to consider two area zoning requests.

The board will meet at 9 a.m. on the I-270 frontage road off the north Route 203 exit. Ethel Jateff, owner, and Slavko Kunshur, occupant, are seeking a special use permit to place a mobile home for a nightwatchman.

The property is in an agricultural district of Chouteau Township. At 9:30 a.m., the board will meet at 8301 Fairway in State Park Place to consider a request from Richard Counts, owner and occupant of a mobile home, to continue the placement of his mobile home in an R-4 single family residence district in Nameok Township.

Indoor air pollution big problem

Indoor air pollution at home is the theme of Clean Air Week 1985 to be sponsored again this year by the American Lung Association (ALA) — the Christmas Seal people — it was announced today by Lee Ann Baker, Lewis-Clark Region.

The dates for Clean Air Week are April 29 to May 5. The week has been sponsored by the ALA since 1972. It is designed to focus on the need to improve the air people breathe and to underline the importance of the federal government's Clean Air Act, administered by the Environmental Protection Agency.

"The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimated that between 80 and 95 percent of our ex-posure to air pollution occurs indoors," she said. "Public awareness of indoor air pollution in our homes is only now emerging. It is of growing concern, because it affects the health of millions."

Baker said indoor air pollution is presenting a dilemma for advocates of home energy conservation: People who live in drafty homes may have high heating bills, but air seeping in from outdoors flushes out harmful pollutants.

"In well-insulated homes, air exchange rates are reduced, thereby exposing occupants to pollution levels much higher than those suffered by their chiller but probably healthier neighbors," she said.

"The list of known pollutants is not yet long, but is growing, and research scientists tell us we are only beginning to realize the extent of our potential exposure."

"The major pollutants found indoors include: formaldehyde, a bonding agent in foam insulation, plywood paneling and particle board; nitrogen dioxide; carbon monoxide; second-hand or passive smoke from cigarettes, cigars or pipes; radioactive radon; airborne asbestos fibers; fungi and bacteria."

"Worst of all, the people most susceptible to these hazardous pollutants are the ones who are home the most," Baker said. "Including infants, young children, the elderly, pregnant women, and those with respiratory and cardiovascular problems."

"The Lewis-Clark Region has a free checklist and brochure containing tips for finding and eliminating the major sources of air pollution in the home. Copies can be obtained by calling 295-3680."

Governor, wife earn $118,718

Governor and Mrs. James R. Thompson have released copies of their joint state and federal income tax returns for the 12th consecutive year, showing they paid $19,490 in federal taxes on a joint taxable income of $53,383 and paid $3,018 in state income taxes.

Their total income for calendar 1984 was $118,718. The adjusted gross income was $111,718.

Contributions to an individual Retirement Account — and itemized deductions involving payments of real estate taxes and mortgage interest, as well as contributions to the Illinois Executive Mansion Association — lowered the taxable income. They will receive a refund of $7,316 from the federal government and $32 from the state.

The income includes Mrs. Thompson's employment with a Chicago law firm and with the National College of Education.

Grants aid victims of violent crimes in Madison County

Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan has announced 75 public and private not-for-profit agencies will be awarded $600,000 to provide services to violent crime victims. Included are $10,000 to the SIUE Rape and Sexual Abuse Center, $9,500 to the Alton YWCA and $7,500 to the Madison County state's attorney's Victim Assistance Center.

Grants for the programs are available through the Violent Crime Victims Assistance Fund, a new fund which is financed by fines imposed on convicted offenders.

"Far too many people think we have a criminal justice system," Hartigan said. "This fund is a vital step in creating a true justice system in Illinois. We are especially pleased to announce the grants during National Victims Rights Week."

An 11-member advisory commission for the new state program made recommendations to the attorney general on which agencies should receive the money.

"Some agencies will hire social workers to work directly with victims," Hartigan said, "while others will improve training for their staff, expand office space or establish toll-free hotline numbers for crisis intervention."

Strengthen the Shield Law

The Illinois Press Association is supporting overdue legislation to strengthen the woefully inadequate Shield Law. We, too, support the legislation.

Known in Illinois as the Reporters' Privilege section of the Code of Civil Procedure, shield laws protect reporters from revealing sources of confidential information.

This protection allows people to go to the press, confidentially, to report wrongdoing by such persons as government officials, corporate executives or underworld figures. Without such protection, fear of reprisal would keep vital information out of the public's hands.

Gov. James Thompson proposes to strengthen the law by allowing reporters to protect their sources in libel suits, such as the case of St. Clair County Board Chairman Jerry Costello versus the Belleville News-Democrat and its former editorial writer, Richard Hargrave, who now works for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Thompson, as a direct result of Hargrave's jailing last July for refusing to reveal sources used for an editorial, proposed amending the law March 3 and hearings on the matter are now being held in Springfield.

Among other changes in the law is to allow free-distribution newspapers and part-time reporters to have shield protection for their sources. The rationale for not having shield coverage for these groups is indeterminate. According to the IPA's attorney, Stephen L. Young, he can find no clear reason for exclusion of these groups.

With free-distribution newspapers comprising a large share of the market in Illinois (Suburban Newspapers of Greater St. Louis have over 200,000 circulation in the Metro-East, and the Wednesday Journal of Oak Park has 19,000), significant numbers of reporters are working without the legally supported ability to protect sources.

Dan Haley, editor of the Oak Park newspaper, like many other free-distribution newspaper editors, had no idea his paper was not afforded shield protection.

The governor has seen this unjustified disparity between free and paid newspapers needs rectification and his action deserves credit. So far, no free newspaper - to our knowledge - has had to deal with the fact that it cannot protect its sources, but the litigious attitude of the public toward the press could bring this situation to light, with serious ramifications to follow for even the most diligent reporters.

We urge the legislature to follow the governor's lead and give the press the opportunity to continue in its already difficult role without the added burden of a shield law that does not do enough to shield.

State FOI Law lacks strength

The Illinois Freedom of Information Act might well be called the "Exclusion FROM Information Act."

"...Information revealing the identity of persons who file complaints or provide information to administrative, investigative, law enforcement..." agencies.

Only the most libertarian among the press would claim every report to a government agency should be made public. Most press persons are conservative enough to understand government agencies sometime need to protect their sources, just as the press has been given a shield law in this state to protect its sources.

While many area police departments recognize the need to inform the press about crime, some departments do not. They can use the law to keep the press and the public in the dark about criminal activity.

Stalling is another provision of the Exclusion FROM Information Act. If a reporter requests information about the workings of a government body, it could take up to 14 days to get the information. This is a fast-paced world of high-tech communication. The public's appetite is whetted on hearing the latest information. The act legally allows foot-dragging, depriving the public of the instantaneous reports it deserves.

The Illinois Press Association is working to chop these and other stipulations from the Exclusion FROM Information Act.

Though the state deserves credit for enacting the act at all, the act's timidity is a public disservice in the name of service. The legislature, when in coming months it considers the proposed FOI changes, should keep in mind that democracy depends on an informed public.

Press reporters are out to get anyone, but all are out to let the people know what their leaders are doing. That is and always has been our job, and God help this nation if that job ever changes.

As newsmen Walter Cronkite once remarked, "Our job is only to hold up the mirror - to tell and show the public what has happened - and then it is the job of the people to decide whether they have faith in their leaders and government. We are faithful to our profession in telling the truth. That's the only faith to which journalists need adhere."

GC city vehicle stickers on sale

Granite City Clerk Robert W. Stevens issued a reminder Tuesday that city vehicle stickers currently are on sale. The stickers are available at City Hall, the Granite City Township Building and various banks throughout the city.

The stickers are currently being offered at a reduced rate. Prices will increase after May 20.

The cost of stickers for trucks is based on vehicle weight. The price structure is as follows: one-ton trucks, $10; one to two tons, $12; two to three tons, $15; three to four tons, $20; and over five tons, $31.

Trucks and van owners must bring their registration cards with them when purchasing the stickers.

The price for a car sticker is $5. Motorcycle owners must pay $3.

Senior citizens wishing to purchase their auto stickers will only get a discount if they purchase it at the Township Hall. Stickers for seniors are $1 per vehicle, per family. They must bring their registration card and driver's license when purchasing the license.

Disabled residents may purchase their auto stickers at the city clerk's office. The stickers are limited to one per family. Disabled persons must have a driver's license, registration card and proof of disability.

Stickers are also on sale at First Granite City National Bank, 201 Street and Edison Avenue, and its Belmore Village Shopping Center location; Central Bank, 1909 Edison Ave. and the 24th Street and Madison Avenue location; American Heritage Bank, Nameoki and Fehling roads, and Colonial Bank, Maryville and Pontoon roads.

Edgar cites many pedestrian deaths

In 1983, about 7,000 pedestrians were killed and more than 200,000 were injured by motor vehicles in the United States, Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar said this week.

"Pedestrians share the responsibility for preventing accidents by obeying traffic safety laws."

"They must obey traffic signals and walk lights and use the right half of the crosswalk when practical. When the steady yellow signal appears, pedestrians are not allowed to cross unless directed by a pedestrian-control signal or a police officer."

"Pedestrians who cross at any place other than a crosswalk at an intersection must yield the right-of-way to oncoming vehicles. They are not allowed to walk on a highway if there is a sidewalk next to it. If there is no sidewalk, they must walk on the shoulder as far as possible from the edge of the road."

"If there is neither a sidewalk nor a shoulder and they must walk on the road, they should walk as close as possible to the outside edge. On a two-way roadway, pedestrians must walk on the left side of the road."

"Although pedestrians and drivers should watch for each other, the final responsibility for traffic safety rests with the drivers. I urge them to be especially careful when approaching a child, an elderly person or someone who appears confused, disabled or intoxicated."

Hazardous waste leaking from dump trucks

To the Editor:

As one concerned citizen, I feel it is my duty to ask citizens how they feel about hazardous waste being hauled up and down our streets, through our towns and communities, while their contents are blowing out on our streets.

Also, there is liquid hazardous waste, not just leaking but pouring out onto our streets, from dump trailers while on their way to a landfill.

On April 16, I was following behind one of these trailers on Route 3 when I started noticing a brown liquid pouring out from the back and blowing onto my car and windshield.

At first I thought that it was just muddy water, but as I turned my windshield wipers on it was like a oily film that even washer solution couldn't clean off.

I pulled over to the side of the road and cleaned my windshield. I tried at that time to clean this liquid off of my paint, but it wouldn't come off.

I then caught up with the driver of the truck and stopped him. I asked him what he was hauling that was pouring out onto the streets. He told me that it was hazardous waste from incinerators in St. Louis.

He said they haul from 20 to 30 loads a day to a landfill, operating day and night around the clock.

I called the office in St. Louis at a phone number the driver gave me. I asked to speak to the person in charge to see who was going to clean up my car.

A secretary led me to understand that he was too busy to talk to me. I guess it would have been the same if it was some little child, with hazardous waste blown into eyes.

After some further thought and asking around, I don't want anything from these kinds of people but to have the proper officials and agencies stop the hauling and spilling of hazardous waste on our streets.

I was also told by the driver that his company has been dumping hazardous waste for years in Illinois, as well as destroying our side streets and roads.

I am contacting Madison County officials. Please help up to keep these leaking trucks from operating the way they do in our community and state.

Refreshing city appointment

To the Editor:

I applaud Mayor-elect Von Dee Cruse's appointment of Henry Beniack to his staff.

To know "Hank" is to respect him for his impeccable honesty, his unaffected sincerity, and his personal concern for our city's stability and its future growth.

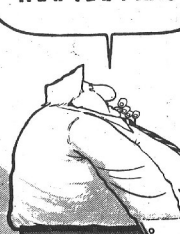

What a refreshing change to see a political appointment made where personal gain is not a factor!

May this be an indication of the type of leadership our new mayor will call upon in guiding our city toward a meaningful future.

Aid to Nicaragua

Visitors to the Granite City Post Office Wednesday afternoon were asked if the United States should continue to give financial aid to Nicaragua and other countries in Central America. Their comments follow.

Carol Scaturro, Venice

"I don't think we should. We should worry about the people here first. We've got people here that are starving and could be helped with that money."

Dale Scaturro, Granite City

"No. Because the people here are paying the taxes, so let the tax money work here before it is used elsewhere."

Jerry Harrington Jr., Granite City

"I believe so. I feel we have an obligation to these other countries since we're such a powerful country and we're the best in the world. Being No. 1, I feel we owe them something, but there is a limit. We should never send troops there."

David Eddy, Granite City

"Sure. We send money everywhere else and they are at our back door, so we should cover our back door, or at least attempt to."

Says plainclothes officer wouldn't show ID

To the Editor:

On Monday morning, April 22, at about 8:30 at 27th and Madison, one of Granite City's plainclothes policemen in an unmarked police car stopped a woman motorist.

A young man arriving saw what he thought was a lady in need of help. He stopped his car, got out, asked the man if he was a police officer, and requested identification.

The officer at this time did not have his little red light on the dashboard for quite some time. The officer turned on the light and flew into a rage, demanding identification from the young man. The policeman proceeded to call him every name in the book.

As the young man returned to his car, the officer followed him and pulled his door open violently.

A group of people at Hardee's Restaurant witnessed this spectacle. After the officer left the scene, they talked to the young man.

He secured them that he was just passing through our city—he is from out of state—and that he only came this way because the Interstate highway was backed up.

He said he was only trying to make sure the man was a police officer, and that the woman was not in danger. The people who witnessed the incident advised him to go to the police department and file a formal complaint.

The young man followed their advice and talked to a captain, who would not take a complaint. He referred him to the assistant city attorney's office. That is the last we heard of the case.

I know that the officer involved in this case is "of the old school," but shouldn't our policemen know how to handle a simple case like this?

Does the public have the right to request identification from our police department without fear of reprisal?

This young man's sin was to question this policeman. Wake up, Granite City, this is the 1980s.

LOCAL RESIDENT

(Editor's note: The policeman involved said he did have on lights, contrary to what is stated in this letter.)

State legislation to fight child sex abuse

To the Editor:

Several new bills are aimed at protecting children or aiding in the state's fight against child physical and sexual abuse.

Physical abuse of children has been a topic in the General Assembly for quite some time. The Department of Children and Family Services has been active in implementing its programs to protect children in either family or non-family situations where physical abuse occurs.

Likewise, the laws protecting children are stringent in cases where physical abuse is noted, parents, teachers, doctors and family members all share a statutory responsibility to report any potential abuse.

Sexual abuse of children is a much newer and more delicate topic. Children are the danger to children from sexual abuse outside the home from strangers, as well as sexual abuse from family members. Legislation in this area falls into two separate categories.

Again, this is a fairly new discussion in the public, as well as the legislature, and the assembly must act outside the set of complex emotions which surround this topic.

Some of the legislative initiatives introduced this session include: +House Bill 58, which requires anual instruction of all pupils from kindergarten through eighth grade in effective methods to avoid abduction and potential sexual assault.

+House Bill 51, providing that if a pupil is absent from school for two hours after the beginning of classes, the school must notify the parents or guardian of the child's absence. A number of states have initiated similar proposals to keep parents and teachers in closer communication. Obviously, the intent of this legislation is to alert parents when a child's absence is first noted.

+House Bill 52, expanding the definition of child abduction to anyone who lures or attempts to lure a child into a motor vehicle for unlawful purposes. This would give law enforcement an opportunity to charge individuals who attempt to pick up children but are unsuccessful.

Several bills would increase the penalty for indecent solicitation of a child or for solicitation or use of child pornography materials. I would be interested in hearing from parents and others with responsibility for the care of children on the bills I have mentioned.

I am committed to working hard on this issue, but I want to be sure our legislative actions accomplish the goal of protecting our children. I am open to any suggestions, input or concerns.

This past week was very active. Enormous numbers of bills were heard in committees.

The deadline for introduction of bills was April 12, and the House recorded an all-time high for number of bills introduced in one session - over 2,500.

videotapes of testimony in the courtroom for children 12 years of age or younger in cases where sexual abuse or assault is alleged.

Allen asks supreme court to reconsider and oust Locher

Madison County State's Attorney Dick Allen announced Monday he has filed a motion for reconsideration of an April 2 Illinois Supreme Court order voiding a directive of Circuit Judge Philip Rarik.

Rarik had removed Special Prosecutor Bruce Locher from the prosecution of an alleged real estate assessment bribery case. The high court disagreed with the removal.

"We are asking the court to reconsider its previous order and allow us to argue the case before the entire court," Allen told the Press-Record.

"OUR POSITION is that Locher's right to any office ended with the election last November. (Allen defeated State's Attorney Don Weber in the election.)

"Locher's continued presence in Madison County is a terrible burden—not just on taxpayers, but on the operation of the entire county government, especially the court system.

"The special prosecutor has publicly impugned (in Allen's opinion) the integrity of every judge in Madison County and even in St. Clair County by contending that, because they are Democrats, they cannot enforce justice," Allen said.

"Furthermore, he has placed a stone around the neck of my office by distorting my resistance to his presence in the county as some kind of assistance to the defense in the assessment case.

"LOCHER SAYS we are against prosecution of that case. I emphatically state we are not. We are against Locher handling it and creating a 'witch hunt' atmosphere to cast suspicion on anyone opposing him.

"The costs of the prosecution, already at $40,000 level, could exceed $140,000. This is an extraordinary amount.

"Madison County does not need Locher for it to achieve swift and vigorous prosecution of this case.

"WE ARE NOT seeking return of this case to the Madison County state attorney's office, although that is one of the alternatives to save tax dollars. We prefer that the case be assigned to the Illinois attorney general, or that the court assign it to another special prosecutor of the court's choosing.

Judge Rarik on Tuesday removed himself from the case, and Chief Circuit Judge Andy Mateosian appointed Associate Judge Charles G. Romani Jr. to hear the case against former county Supervisor of Assessments James Barton and other defendants.

Locher, a Springfield attorney, had asked for Rarik's removal because of what he called the judge's uncooperative attitude in scheduling a prompt trial.

RARICK SAID he would step down but not for the reason given in Locher's request.

The judge said, "Given the continued, unjustified personal attacks upon the court—and the politically partisan tenor which continues to prevail in prosecution of this case, this court now believes its objectivity or the objectivity of any judge could reasonably be questioned.

"This court believes Locher has exploited the office of special prosecutor to obtain personal publicity and excessive and unnecessary fees.

"HIS ALLEGATIONS are totally false, professionally irresponsible and contemptuous, replete with inaccuracies and misleading statements," Rarik said in his decision.

Locher believes Rarik's withdrawal was prudent but does not agree with the judge's comments.

Locher has not responded as yet to the appointment of Romani to try the assessment case.

The special prosecutor had been charged with possession of beer after a traffic accident April 23 at Niedringhaus Avenue and Cleveland Blvd. Joseph D. Toole, 17, of 2311 E. 23rd St., Douglas S. Jackson, 18, of 2157 Monroe Ave. and William G. Wooley, 18, of 2157 Monroe were charged after a car driven by Jackson and another auto collided.

Belinda Dover, Olive Branch, Ill., a passenger in the other car, was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Jackson was also charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

SEXUAL ABUSE IS CHARGED AGAINST GRANITE CITY MAN

Dean Culver, 19, of 1510 Kirkpatrick Homes was arrested by Granite City police April 20 and served a warrant alleging criminal sexual abuse. The arrest relates to a March incident in which Culver allegedly performed a sexual act on a sleeping child.

Culver's bond was set at $2,500. He was transferred to the Madison County Jail.

THREE CHARGED WITH POSSESSION OF BEER

Three Granite City minors were charged with possession of beer after a traffic accident April 23 at Niedringhaus Avenue and Cleveland Blvd. Joseph D. Toole, 17, of 2311 E. 23rd St., Douglas S. Jackson, 18, of 2157 Monroe Ave. and William G. Wooley, 18, of 2157 Monroe were charged after a car driven by Jackson and another auto collided.

Belinda Dover, Olive Branch, Ill., a passenger in the other car, was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Jackson was also charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Cruse announces nine new city appointments

At an informal meeting of the City Council on Wednesday night, Granite City Mayor-elect Von Dee Cruse announced additional appointments he plans to submit for approval by the aldermen.

Cruse announced last week that he intends to appoint Henry Bieniecki as assistant to the mayor and Mark Goldenberg as the new city attorney.

LAST NIGHT he added nine others to the list.

Serving as assistant city attorneys will be Charles Douglas and John Hopkins.

Serving on the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners will be Daniel Partney, Ed Vaughn and Bob Barton.

Other appointments include: Donna Fanning as secretary to the mayor, John Chomko as deputy liquor commissioner and Ervin DeRousse as city inspector.

DARLENE LAUB will serve as Granite City Township assessor until she officially takes office in January 1986 for the four-year term to which she was elected April 2.

Cruse is leaving the assessor position early due to his election as mayor.

Cruse stressed his hope that the aldermen unite in their efforts to improve the city. He said their unification could make the difference in issues such as repair of city sewer breaks, revitalization of the downtown area, and the pending decision on whether to issue liquor licenses to local supermarkets.

The meeting, which was conducted at Charlie's Restaurant, included not only current council members but also newly-elected aldermen and those persons suggested for city appointments.

Cruse hopes to have the names of the new city fire and police chiefs to announce in the next week.

Armed robbery suspect charged

Richard L. Berkshire, 22, of 1714 Edison Ave. was arrested by Granite City police Tuesday and charged with the armed robbery Sunday of the Clark Service Station, 8005 Madison Ave.

An attendant, working at the gasoline station at the time of the incident, told police he was on the telephone when Berkshire approached him, carrying what appeared to be a .22 caliber pistol.

Berkshire allegedly put the gun to the attendant's chest, telling him to be quiet and give him all of the money on hand.

About $300 in cash was given to the robber.

Berkshire was taken into custody at 1835 Edison Ave. His bond has been set at $75,000, and a mittimus is to be issued for transfer to Madison County custody.

STEREOS, CASH ARE TAKEN

Two carry-along stereos were taken in a burglary at the home of Goldie Smith, 2015 Illinois Ave., April 23. An intruder cut a screen door and broke a window to gain entry. Also missing were a set of house keys, $45 in cash and a calculator.

Venice police hold suspect in robbery

A 24-year-old Venice man remains in custody today in the strong-arm robbery of a woman, whose purse was stolen April 24.

Already charged with theft and battery, the suspect is being held while Venice police are applying to the Madison County state's attorney's office for a warrant.

The victim told police she was walking north in the 900 block of 3rd Street, Venice, when a man in his mid 20s approached her and asked for money. When she refused to give him any, he tried to take her purse.

As she resisted his efforts, he struck her with his fist and left ear and pushed her to the ground.

Clutching the purse, the man ran north on 3rd Street, turned east on Hampden Avenue and turned left on 14th Street, where he got into an auto.

The purse contained cash and car keys, $30 cash, several credit cards, and a checkbook.

About 90 minutes later, the victim was taken by a police officer to view a parked car in the area. She was able to identify a photograph of the suspect.

One hour after the identification was made, Police Chief Farris Smith and Detective Sergeant Bill Reed said the suspect inside a vehicle driven by another man. They stopped the car in the 1300 block of Market Street, and the suspect was arrested.

Armed robbery today in Venice

Venice police are looking for two men and a woman who robbed a St. Louis man at knife point at 1:45 a.m. today.

After the robbery occurred, the victim, David Free, St. Louis, left the scene and flagged down a Venice cop in the 1200 block of Klein Street.

The victim reported meeting a woman in a Venice tavern and going to drive around town, where they picked up two male friends of the woman.

He was directed to drive into an alley, where the men got out of the vehicle and one man opened the car door, stuck a knife at his throat and said, "I want your money," the victim related.

After he gave the robber his wallet, containing only a small amount of cash, the men asked for more money and searched the victim. The victim was made to get out of the car and take off his shoes and socks.

A total of $175 was removed from one of the victim's socks. While the robber still held the knife to his throat, the victim was made to lie down on the ground and the woman and two men fled from the scene.

Request for new trial denied

U.S. District Judge William L. Beatty has denied a request for a new trial by Thomas R. Brimberry, a former Granite Cityan convicted of obstructing justice in a $16 million stock fraud at the defunct Stix & Co. stock brokerage.

A flamboyant spender during the years he directed operations at the St. Louis brokerage, Brimberry said in November 1984 that federal prosecutors had withheld from his attorneys an FBI report that he believes would have damaged the government's case.

The report involved a lawyer's comments that Brimberry had urged a fellow defendant, Jerry Maeras of Madison and Arlington Heights, to cooperate with U.S. investigators.

Brimberry said the FBI document contradicted Maeras' testimony that Brimberry had told him to destroy records of stock transactions and monetary withdrawals.

Beatty noted at Alton that the report had been withheld but said this fact is insufficient to justify scheduling a new trial.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED

Attorney At Law

Recently a woman was paid by a 15 year old boy who was a truant high school student. The attack occurred on a school day shortly before noon. The victim filed suit against the boy, the parents, and the school district. There is obviously liability on the part of the attacker. The real question here is whether the parents and the school district can be held responsible.

With regard to the parents, the complaint alleged that they knew their son was truant, that they knew he associated with juvenile delinquents, and that they were aware he previously engaged in miscellaneous acts of criminal conduct. The general law in this state regarding parental responsibility for acts of minors is that a parent is not liable for wrongful acts or injuries caused by his children merely because of the parent-child relationship. A parent is under a duty to control his minor child, however, if he is aware that his child has a disposition to commit violent acts.

The victim in this case relied upon a case decided in California in 1953. Here the injured party was pushed violently to the floor by a four year old child. The plaintiff sought to hold the parents liable in this California case and that the parents liable in this California case and alleged that the parents knew the four year old habitually engaged in conduct whereby he violently attacked people and throw them to the ground. Thus the injured parent maintained the parents had knowledge of "similar" acts of violence.

The Illinois Court found this California case was different from the facts of the case case discussed above. The Court noted that there was no evidence that the parents of the rapist had any previous knowledge of criminal acts on the part of their son. There was certainly no allegation that the parents had any knowledge of "similar" acts of violence committed by their son. Furthermore, the Court felt the injured party did not establish that the parents had the opportunity to control their child's behavior. Thus the Court found that the parents of the rapist could not be held liable for injury to the victim.

What about the complaint against the school district? The victim felt that because the school acts "in place of the parents," they should be liable under the same theory as the parents. The Court noted that the complaint against the school district must be dismissed for the same reasons noted above.

FINAL PAYMENT TO BI-STATE. Tri-City Port District Commissioner John Bellico, third from left, presents a check Monday to Carl Mathias, chairman of the Bi-State Development Agency board, as final payment for the former Bi-State docks at the southern end of the Chain of Rocks Canal harbor. Bellico was chairman of the port board 10 years ago when the purchase agreement was made. Witnessing the event are, at left, State

Representative Sam Wolf and State Senator Sam Vadala, and, at far right, John Brawley, chairman of the Bi-State board when the agreement was made. Port district officials praised the efforts of the five Illinois members on the 10-member Bi-State board when the agreement was reached. They were Mike Sasyk, Paul Schuler, John Shuff, Roy May and Carmen Moody. (Staff photo by Patrick Foley)

Council accepts retirements, resignations

Granite City aldermen approved retirement letters Tuesday night from Police Chief Ronald Veizer and Fire Chief Don Parente. Also approved were resignations from two of the three city fire and police commissioners. The retirements of Veizer and Parente come after the pair received letters from Mayor-elect Von Dee Cruse, saying the men would not be reappointed to their positions after Cruse is sworn in as mayor May 7.

CRUSE SAID Wednesday that all three of the fire and police commissioners have also been sent letters asking for their resignations. To date, Norbert Sudholt and Weldon Burch have given notice of their leaving.

The third member of the board, Elmer Miller, has not yet turned in his resignation, according to a worker in the city clerk's office.

ALDERMEN reviewing the retirements and resignations moved to refer the actions to the city-intergovernmental committee, to possibly prepare plaques acknowledging the men's years of service.

Paul Fisk, alderman of the Third Ward, expressed regret over Veizer's retirement. Veizer has served 31 years in the police department, it was noted.

"It takes a special type of person to do the police chief's job—he ran a tight ship," Fisk said. "He's been an asset to Granite City and the city has been honored to have a man like him working for us."

ALDERMAN SAM Whitmer agreed with Fisk, saying Veizer has been a "friend" to the city administration. He originally was appointed as chief by the late Mayor Donald Partney Sr. and continued as chief throughout the 12 years of Paul Schuler's service as mayor.

Everett Morien, alderman of the First Ward and chairman of the city police committee, said he appreciates the way Veizer dealt with his committee.

"He just gave us the information—he left the decisions up to the committee," Morien said.

SEVERAL ALDERMEN also expressed their appreciation for Parente's service, which totals 28½ years.

"It's been said many times, but he (Parente) ran one of the most efficient offices in the city," Fisk said. "And he was always a gentleman when you went to see him."

Whitmer expressed gratitude to Parente for his dedication in establishing the city ambulance service, which is operated in conjunction with the fire department.

"I REMEMBER about five years ago when the city was dicker with the funeral homes over the ambulance service," Whitmer said. "It was Don Parente who put this ambulance service together."

Veizer's retirement is effective May 1. Parente, Sudholt and Burch will leave city service effective May 7.

BAC offering to buy

think the particular needs are at the two-year college center here.

"We will also be seeking responses from them about the possibility of BAC acquiring the center from the district," Wright said. He added that his firm will complete 300 interviews.

"NOTHING IS CONCRETE yet," said Superintendent of Schools Frank Kraus. "The big thing right now is the poll. But as far as how much BAC will pay us to acquire the property, I can't say."

"All we talked about last night (at Tuesday's board meeting) was a concept. Now we will start negotiating. And we are willing to listen to what they have to say."

BAC had used the building for night classes for several years before moving in full-time in the fall of 1983, when GCHS North merged with South, now known as Granite City High School. Over the years, the district also had an extensive night program at South.

"THE REASON for the renovations is not because the school district was negligent in its care of the building," Wissore said. "It's just that after 12 to 15 years, that's a critical time for a roof, as well as the heating and air conditioning."

Also, when we signed our original two-year lease in 1983, we had five two-year options to go with it. So, now it's time to exercise that first option. A decision had to be made."

Wissore said the center remains a vital part of the community and the college district.

"GRANITE CITY HAS a greater opportunity to grow than almost any city in Illinois," he said. "And a community college is an important part of that."

The enrollment (at Granite City Center) is at 2,100 right now, and we're looking at it increasing gradually to around 4,000 within the next two years.

Wissore's hope is that the center gains full campus status.

"IT MEETS all the minimum requirements," he said. "So I think the state will look favorably on it."

A major renovation project would also likely mean jobs in Granite City, Wissore said.

He said the phone survey will play an important part in shaping the plan, but any negative reactions would not be disappointments.

"There are no disappointments in surveys," he said. "They are done to get the public's feelings on an issue and whatever they feel is fine. That is the most important thing."

WISSORE SAID work on the roof would cost $700,000, and work on the heating, ventilation and air conditioning could go well over $1 million. The purchase of the building would include about 30 acres, slightly less than half of the total property now owned by the school district at that site.

favor except for Alderman Charles Rockett, who dissented.

Council members asked for assurance that the $214,000—designated as payment to the water company to begin work on the water line—be held in abeyance until legal procedures are completed.

SPEAKING EMPHATICALLY, Nighobossian and Gordon promised the money would not be paid to the water firm until courts verify the validity of annexations by the city.

Alderman Chris Costello asked if business places near Gateway Truck Stop could get water from National City.

Nighobossian answered with the comment that the Skelly company, associated with Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza, has negotiated for six years with St. Clair County and National City to obtain water service, with no confirmation received from either that it will be provided.

RAY PRATT, owner of Gateway, discussed his viewpoint on the desirability of the water line extension and informed the council of future plans for the truck plaza.

"Only after annexation, and the fact that we can't get water there, will we spend $350,000 to $500,000 to double the size of the building for additional restaurant space and a 22-room motel adjacent to our present facility," Pratt told the aldermen.

He said he understands there also are other people interested in building a motel hotel in that area.

PRATT SAID St. Clair County has been receiving in excess of $40,000 in sales tax revenue from his business, and in 1984 he forwarded $80,000 in motor fuel taxes to the state of Illinois. A portion of that came back to St. Clair County, he added.

If the annexation problems are resolved, such funds will then become revenue for Madison, he said.

Plans for Nichols Airport

ly 90 percent of the cost, and the state would provide 5 percent, Ware said.

AUTHORITY MEMBER Melvin Wilmsmeyer said the authority has no taxing power for continued operation of the facility.

Ware said the authority could buy the airport, and an airport authority could be established. The airport authority would have the power to tax, by referendum, with several communities providing the base. The communities would be charged with facility operations.

Bellico, also a port authority member, said he plans to meet with other authority members to discuss what role, if any, the authority should take.

WARE SAID Nichols wants to sell the land as soon as possible.

Leave granted, board approves summer school

The Granite City School Board, April 23 granted a leave of absence to Betty Roberts, a teacher at Parkway School, for the rest of the school year. She requested the leave due to personal illness.

The board also approved recommendations for summer school in 1985.

For elementary students, a program will be offered for maintenance of skills and remediation in language arts and mathematics. It will be conducted at Parkway and Prather Schools.

The program will run for 24 class days, June 10 through July 12, with July 13 being a holiday. Hours will be from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Cost will be $40 per pupil.

For junior high school students, classes in math, language arts and social studies will be offered. School will start June 11 and end July 21.

There will be two sessions, 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. Cost will be $40 per two-hour session. There will be two sessions, 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. Cost will be $40 per two-hour session.

For high school, the summer session will start June 11 and end July 21, with no sessions on July 4.

Registration fees are $40 per class. The following classes will be offered: There is a minimum enrollment of 20 students per class.

Freshman composition (failures only), freshman literature (failures only), oral communication, American literature, images of America, literature, senior composition (summer graduates only), consumer home management.

Health (grades 10-11), 1-8, physical science, life science, American history, 1-2, civics, algebra 2, pre-algebra, math survey (1-2, 3-4, 5-6), typing (1-2, 3-4, 5-6), and driver training.

According to Warren Collins, director of programs for the district, it has become difficult to compete with summer programs for the gifted offered by Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and Belleville Area College.

Last year, the district had to cancel the summer gifted program when it was able to enroll only 50 percent of the students necessary to recover costs. The district will offer information on other local gifted programs being offered.

Collins said BAC and SIUC are offering computer classes for elementary and junior high students, and BAC has expressed an interest in hiring some of the district's personnel to teach those classes.

Maryville School had the highest attendance rate of all schools in the Granite City School District for March, according to figures released by the district.

Maryville had 96.12 percent for the month. Maryville also led in attendance by kindergarten classes, with 94.88 percent.

The overall attendance average for the district was 93.61 percent. There were 8,375 students in the district at the end of the month, a decrease of 21 from the end of February.

Senior citizens' baseball game visit slated May 22

The Granite City Park District will sponsor the second of the four senior citizen baseball trips to see the St. Louis Cardinals and the Atlanta Braves at Busch Stadium on Wednesday, May 22.

The game will begin at 12:30 p.m. and the bus will leave the ice rink at 11 a.m. Tickets will go on sale on Wednesday, May 8, at 9 a.m. at the Wilson Park Office. The cost of the tickets this year is $3.50 and the bus is free.

One person may not purchase more than four tickets and must provide park district residency for each ticket holder. Non-residents will be placed on a waiting list.

According to the Cardinals' ticket office, the senior citizen tickets are available to anyone over 60 years old.

The next senior citizen game attendance to be sponsored by the park district will be Wednesday, July 10, and tickets will go on sale Wednesday, June 12.

GC park board approves local enterprise zone plan

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

The Granite City Park Board last night adopted a tax abatement resolution for the proposed Enterprise Zone in the Quad-City area.

The park district was the last taxing body to pass a resolution for the zone, which was applied for last fall by Madison County and the cities of Granite City, Madison and Venice.

State approval is being awaited. The goal of our Enterprise Zone program is to encourage new or existing business and industry to locate or expand within the proposed boundaries of the zone," said Aaron Ridenour, Madison County economic development coordinator.

"This would create jobs and improve the tax bases of the various units of government within the Enterprise Zone, including the Granite City Park District, over the long term."

The three municipalities and three school districts in the area, as well as the county, have passed resolutions adopting the property tax abatement within the zone. Under the plan, real estate taxes would be abated on any increase in the assessment of commercial, industrial and manufacturing property in the zone for a four-year period.

"This abatement will only be for improvements and renovations," said Randall Robertson, attorney for the park district. "If someone has a 100-foot shed and builds another 100 feet onto it, the abatement would only apply for that second 100 feet."

The resolutions passed by the taxing bodies will only become effective if the area is designated in July 1985. The county's application is being reviewed by the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

Daylight time to start Sunday

Daylight saving time will return here at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Quad-City residents will lose an hour of sleep but will gain longer evening daylight for the next six months.

Clocks and watches are to be turned ahead from 2 to 3 early Sunday or changed upon retiring Saturday night.

contrast to the pattern of previous local and regional sirens when a long path had been followed through Missouri.

"Due to this fact and under the prevailing weather conditions on Tuesday, we would rather be safe than sorry," the spokesman said.

The warning signals are activated when a tornado warning is received from the National Weather Service or when a funnel cloud is seen heading toward the Quad-City area.

UPON HEARING the sirens, residents are urged to get away from windows and to seek immediate shelter in a basement or interior hallway.

A funnel cloud is not officially recognized as a tornado until it touches the ground, was noted.

A SEVERE thunderstorm was moving through this area when the siren network was activated Tuesday and the National Weather Service reported strong winds, gusting up to 36 mph.

Hail was mixed with the torrential rain in some sections of Granite City and water from the downpour spilled over curbs at many intersections.

Lightning knocked out the main dispatch radio at the Madison County Sheriff's Department at 4:50 p.m. Tuesday but caused little disruption of police and deputy activity. Backup equipment was quickly put into use, officers said.

ALL WARNING SIRENS in Granite City functioned Tuesday, with the exception of the device in the vicinity of Glen and Ash avenues, the ESDA spokesman said.

Birds had nested inside the siren's casing and some wiring may have sustained damage, it was discovered when the same device malfunctioned during the April 2 test.

Repairs to the warning device were ordered immediately following the monthly test, the ESDA officer said.

Court action on city annexation

Following a friendly lawsuit filed by a Madison city employee to obtain court sanction of the municipality's growth to the south, an unfriendly court intervention took place Wednesday.

The Metro East Sanitary District obtained approval from Madison County Chief Associate Judge Edward Ferguson to intervene in the suit filed earlier by Michael Mackey, city fire chief and alarm supervisor.

The city has acted to take in acreage, including the Gateway Truck Plaza along Illinois Route 203. It has sought to arrange for extension of water service to the area.

MESD argues that the annexation procedure, crossing the line into St. Clair County, is illegal. Robert Sprague, MESD attorney, says a March 25 sanitary board meeting approving the annexation plan lacks validity because there was no proper notice to the five commissioners.

The proposal is described as potentially raising property taxes for Madisonians but aiding their city by obtaining added sales taxes and motor fuel taxes.

City and County officials have indicated they will fight the annexation. Sprague said he is seeking to force Madison to show what authority empowers it to carry out such annexations.

He said overturning the MESD approval of the plan is a key to blocking it, since, without inclusion of Sanitary District property, other annexed areas would not be contiguous to the city.

Organ donors sought

In the St. Louis metropolitan area, more than 800 people are on dialysis, many of whom could benefit from a kidney transplant. Other vital organs such as hearts, livers and pancreases also are urgently needed in this area, the Regional Transplant Association (RTA) said today.

The critical need for donation of organs that can save lives of thousands of people suffering from kidney, liver and heart disorders is being emphasized during National Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Week, April 21-27.

The week has been proclaimed by President Ronald Reagan and area government officials. In Eastern Missouri and Metro-East, the St. Louis RTA is leading efforts to increase awareness of the need for organs and to inform people of the procedure for assuring organ donation.

Dr. Keith A. Hruska, chairman of RTA, said there is "a severe need here and nationally for organs to be used in transplantation. We hope to make people more aware of that need and to encourage them to take measures to assure donation of organs."

Hruska emphasized that organ donation is a matter that should be discussed with one's family once a decision to become a donor is reached. This will relieve the family of making the decision during a time of stress, he said.

About two million people die each year in the U.S. and in 1983 only 2,500 donated their organs. More than 8,000 people throughout the nation are awaiting kidneys, and 160,000 of the 13 million Americans suffering from some form of kidney disease die annually.

The need for other vital organs also continues to increase. Life expectancy for patients needing a heart or liver is measured in weeks or months. Many transplant centers report that one-third to one-half of those waiting for a heart or liver die before one becomes available.

Anyone 18 or older may make the decision to be an organ donor. Minors may become donors with the consent of parents or guardians.

"Signing a donor card or the back of one's state driver's license is a good first step toward ensuring that your organs will be donated at the time of your death. Equally important is the need to make your wishes known to your family," Hruska said. More information on this subject can be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the St. Louis Regional Transplant Association, 222 S. Central Ave., Suite 303, St. Louis, Mo. 63105.

Romans 8:31 "...If God be for us, who can be against us?"

Good question! With God on our side there is no way we can fail. Why then, do we find Christians with so many problems? Usually the failing is in us. We are our own biggest problem.

The proper attitude for difficult situations in life is not a gift from God. We learn how to deal with our problems. God gives the Holy Spirit to teach us. And if we walk in obedience to His Word, the Spirit will teach us how to deal with every problem in life. God will not teach you faster than you can learn. Don't try to write a book of you haven't learned your ABC's.

Pray for God's guidance and read His Word for light on your pathway daily.

God is for you.

Granite City area 'fortunate' in lack of missing children

By SUSANNE INDELCATO
Staff writer

While law enforcement officials throughout the country struggle with the growing problem of missing children, Granite City authorities say this area has been "very fortunate" in its lack of missing children cases.

"Maybe once in a while we'll get some (children) who stay away a long time, but basically they're only gone a week, a few days or a few hours," said Granite City Juvenile Officer Dusan Gagich.

"Most of them are runaways," he added. "I've got a bunch of habituals. In a lot of cases, they're found and nobody bothers to report it."

But as far as serious cases are concerned, Gagich can cite none. "None of ours has ever come out dead. We've been very lucky."

Madison County authorities, too, have been very "lucky." County Juvenile Officer Rosie Huebner said she, too, deals mostly with runaways. "As far as a disappearance, no, we don't have any," she said.

Meanwhile, Madison County has agreed to participate in a missing children program through the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission. Through the Intergovernmental Missing Child Recovery Act of 1984, state funds will provide for the establishment of an Illinois State Enforcement Agency to Recover Children unit (or I-SEARCH unit).

The unit will provide information and training to parents, children and communities in ways to prevent child abduction.

In addition, the Madison County Sheriff's Department will share information with other law enforcement agencies in an effort to locate and return missing children.

Lukens shows 1st-quarter improvement in steel sales

Lukens Inc. recorded a $372,000, or seven cents a share, first quarter loss, an improvement over the $2,539,000, or 49 cents a share, loss in last year's first quarter. The firm would have been profitable had there not been a provision for long outstanding civil rights litigation which adversely affected this quarter's net results by $800,000.

Sales were $100,542,000, up from $91,064,000 a year ago.

For its steel group, including the former General Steel, Lukens recorded first-quarter sales of $74 million and operating earnings of $1.8 million, compared to sales of $66 million and an operating loss of $2.4 million a year ago.

Nameoki officials discuss threat to revenue sharing

By SUSANNE INDELCATO
Staff writer

The Reagan Administration's budget-cutting process could affect Nameoki Township residents as early as this September.

That's when the federal government's fiscal year ends, and actions by Congress and the president will determine whether the government's General Revenue Sharing program will be terminated when the new fiscal year begins.

THE POSSIBLE elimination of the program was discussed by Nameoki Township officials during a public hearing Monday on uses of revenue sharing funds during the next fiscal year.

In a letter to the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees, Township Officials of Illinois Executive Director George H. Miller warned that Office of Management and Budget Director David Stockman has proposed that the revenue sharing program be terminated from the new budget. Miller said a decision is expected by May 15.

He urged township officials to write the White House, Senate and Congress to urge them to continue the revenue sharing program through 1986.

COMMENTING ON the situation, Supervisor Harry Briggs said he had already written federal officials, "but the way it sounds in the news, it doesn't sound good."

Prior to the hearing, Briggs said, "As you know, it rather looks like revenue sharing might get cut out by the end of September. We're holding this hearing on the pretext that we'll receive revenue sharing funds."

Should the program continue, Briggs expects the township will receive $50,000 in shared revenue.

"In looking at the budget, we're almost to the $50,000 level with projects we've had in the past... environmental clean-up, health projects, the senior citizens bus and street lights," he said.

REQUESTS SUBMITTED to the town board Monday included $3,000 for the Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, $10,000 for the Arlington Heights Civic Association for various projects, $1,500 for Belleville Area College's Senior Aids Program and $816 for the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

Briggs said the requests would be taken under consideration while the township budget is being compiled. "Like I said at the beginning of the meeting, I don't think the funds are going to be there."

Trustee Helen Hawkins commented, "It (revenue sharing) has helped a lot of people, like the water with Arlington (Heights). I hope we can get the money to continue the project."

FOLLOWING THE hearing, Briggs told a reporter that the township shares revenue with two more federal revenue sharing payments before September. The payments are received quarterly. "As of right now, $47,000 (in revenue sharing funds) is committed to past programs," he added.

Nameoki Township's statement on revenue sharing funds received in expended through the last fiscal year, ending Feb. 28, showed that the township received $28,799 in federal revenue sharing funds. In addition, the funds generated interest through investment, and the township received reimbursements, donations and loan repayments to the fund. That brought total receipts in revenue sharing to $82,637.

The statement showed $28,799 was paid out of the fund during the last year. Those expenditures went to such items as health projects, the Arlington Heights Civic Association, the senior citizens van, street lights, the Arlington Water District's environmental clean-up program and Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center. The Senior Aids Program, a toll-free telephone line to the Madison County Sheriff's Department, and administrative costs.

A BALANCE of $10,262 remained in the revenue sharing fund.

As for the township's annual budget, Briggs expects it to be completed and posted by the end of this week. The budget must be posted one month before passage by the town Board of Trustees.

APPEARANCE WARRANT ON CURFEW VIOLATION

Vanessa Kay Wallace, 18, 603220 Sycamore Ave., was brought from Glen Carbon Police Department to Granite City Friday on a warrant alleging failure to appear on a curfew violation charge.

She pleaded guilty in a court appearance at 1:30 p.m. the same day, and was released to pay $50 fine, and the balance of the fine at a later time.

While talking with Eakers in his home, they discovered that the plants and two partially filled bags of what appeared to be cannabis. Eakers was transported to the Madison County Jail and his bond was set at $20,000.

2 new directors of 1st GC National Bank

The annual meeting of shareholders of First Granite City National Bank included election of two new directors.

Directors re-elected were Earl C. Buenger, Dr. Christ V. Wilkins, Joseph Glik, Thomas E. Holloway, S.E. Pershall Jr., Carl A. Ranft, John W. Reese, William D. Swanson, Melvin C. Wilmesmyer and Leonard E. Yelton.

In addition, Ted L. Eilerman and Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr. were elected to serve as new directors for the upcoming year.

Wilbert Engelke, Harold R. Fischer and Paul H. Lichtenberger were appointed as advisory directors.

Ted Eilerman, the holder of a bachelor's degree in business administration from Quincy College and a master's degree in science and health care administration from Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas, was named president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in December 1984.

Having served the Medical Center in various capacities for over 17 years, Eilerman is currently responsible for both day-to-day operations and strategic planning. He is active in many community and professional organizations, is married, and has three children.

George T. Wilkins Jr., M.D., began the practice of general pediatric medicine in Granite City in 1965 and has been active in a broad spectrum of local activities over the years.

Wilkins serves on the board of directors of both the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and Coordinated Youth Services, and has been a member of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees since 1979. His professional affiliations include the Madison County Medical Society and Illinois State Medical Society and he has served as president of both.

First Bank Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Melvin C. Wilmesmyer introduced the two new directors and briefly reviewed financial highlights of the bank for 1984.

Year-end total assets of $140.7 million represent an increase of $5.2 million over year-end 1983. Net income rose from $1,254,089 in 1983 to $1,301,503 in 1984.

Thomas E. Holloway, president of the bank, called attention to redecoration of the downtown offices as well as renovation and expansion of the trust, consumer loan and data processing departments. The speed and customer service capabilities of the data processing department were enhanced enormously during 1984 by virtue of the purchase and installation of a new NCR Criterion 9555 computer mainframe and auxiliary equipment, he said.

Wilmesmyer said he views 1985 as another year of transition and uncertainty. The continuation of lower levels of inflation and diminishing unemployment will be contingent in large part on the success of Congress in narrowing ballooning federal deficits, he said.

On the local scene, employment prospects appear to be better than experienced for several years. Also cited was proposed state legislation that would include authorizing Illinois holding companies to operate statewide as well as permitting bank holding firms in the six states contiguous to Illinois to acquire banks in Illinois on a reciprocal basis.

Wilmesmyer reported that, if enacted, both proposals could take effect as early as Jan. 1, 1986. At the organizational meeting of directors of the bank, two promotions were announced. Edward Uhercik was named assistant vice president and Dale Smith was appointed assistant vice president, data processing.

Uhercik joined First Bank in 1961 and has served as assistant cashier since 1968. His duties include responsibility for purchasing, payroll and employee benefits, and overall physical plant maintenance at the downtown offices.

Smith began his career with the bank in 1966 and since 1978 has held the title of assistant director of data processing. Smith will continue to be responsible for day-to-day operations of the bank's data processing center.

Other officers named were: Wilmesmyer, chairman and CEO; Holloway, president; Howard L. Etherton, senior vice president; L.J. Pitman, senior vice president and cashier; John H. Tullgren, vice president and trust officer.

Lockages in GC may be affected by work on the replacement lock

All navigation interests are being advised that, effective immediately, the normal locking procedure (first come, first served) at Locks No. 27, Granite City, will be subject to modification when traffic conditions warrant.

The intent of changes to normal procedures are to relieve congestion between Alton Locks and Dam 26 and Granite City Locks 27 during critical periods of construction of the replacement Lock 26 two miles south of the dam, and to provide efficient utilization of the locks.

James A. Peterson, St. Louis Engineer District operations chief, said, "A maximum of four tows may be locked consecutively in one direction unless there is nothing waiting to lock in the opposite direction."

"It is requested that all vessel pilots be alert for, and abide by, any special instructions which may be issued by the lockmaster or his representative concerning these procedural changes."

For Large Schools Rain postpones county track meet

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The swiftest thing in Tuesday's Red Division (large schools) track meet here at Southern Illinois University was not a crew of speedy tracksters. Not by a long shot.

On this day, Mother Nature was the swiftest of swift with her dash and her flair. Like a woman in scorn, her wish was to wash out and wipe up this once-in-a-year affair. She offered no rhyme and she offered no reason.

Her wish of this track meet was one tainted with treason. Leaving a dampened horizon behind, she'd come to darken and decimate. For even the fastest of tracksters couldn't escape her fate.

For when she arrived, it wasn't a hurling discus or a falling shot put that every eye was watching with care. No, on this day, it was her ominous-looking sky which drew everyone's stare.

First there was lightning, then came the rains, but what sent everyone to shelter were the hail-pelting pains.

They dashed and they scrambled for shelter so far, seeking the comfort and cover of mom and dad's car.

The Warriors were wet and the Tigers now tame, but what frustrated the Redbirds was Mother Nature had ruined their game.

They packed up the poles and they cranked up the bus, for on this day Mother Nature had made such a fuss.

So, worry not young Warriors, your meet's not over.

It's just been postponed until Mother Nature's more sober.

The powers that be say Thursday's that day.

When dear ol' Mom will allow you to play.

So, Thursday's now here and Mother Nature's now calm, so you and your peers can compete in her realm.

So, take to your buses and take to the road.

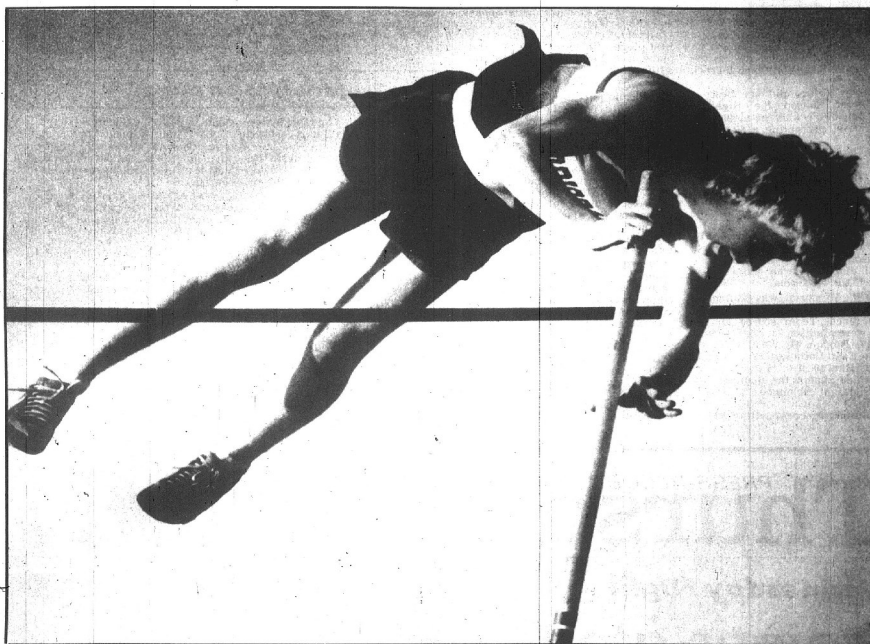

Mother Nature will permit, Ron Yaros has told.

So, lace up and loosen up, the time has now come, to run the race you should've already won.

The meet's continued at 3:30 p.m.

For the Warriors to whup up and beat them again.

SKYWALKER. Granite City High School's Rich Moore goes up and over on this attempt during Tuesday's rain-postponed Madison County track at Southern Illinois University.

at Edwardsville, Moore, who has cleared 13 feet this year, will attempt to break his personal best record as the meet continues today. (Press-Record Photo by Alan L. Gerstenecker)

Trojanettes Finish Third Highland wins girls' meet

HIGHLAND — The only real opponent Highland Coach Ted Cipicchio had as the 38th Annual Madison County drew to a close was Oreo cookies.

"During the rain delay our kids ate a lot," Cipicchio said. "My miler (Amy Johnson) was full of cookies when she ran."

But that was the least of Highland's problems. The Lady Bulldogs dominated the event and won its second straight girls title, easily downing Roxana. Madison finished in third.

Team scores were: Highland 116; Roxana 36; Madison 31; Metro East 23; CM 17; Triad 12; St. Paul 10; Wood River 6.

HIGHLAND got individual championships from Tina Frey (shot put and discus), Jinny Portal (high jump), Terri Grapenhaus (long jump), Terri McLain (3,200), Johnson (800 and 1,600), Liz Weiss (100) and Gina Rutz (200). The Lady Bulldogs also took firsts in the 400 and 800 relay events.

The victory in the 800 was a tainted one as Madison was disqualified allowing Highland to move up a place.

The starter ruled that Madison's Lisa Davenport ran into the Highland runner as she grabbed the baton from teammate Cherri Ware to start the second leg.

"IT'S KIND of disappointing," said Ware of the incident. "We had run our best time (1:51) and had broken the school record."

Ware said she saw the contact that apparently led to the disqualification.

"She bumped her," Ware said. "But the first girl (from Highland) ran in my lane and I couldn't get the stagger."

Madison, however, set a meet record in the 800 medley relay with a time of 1:32.4. Members of the winning team were Ware, Gina Griggs, Angela Harper and Tammy Deal.

"I FIGURED we'd break the old record (1:56.6) because we have been running better than that all year," said Madison Coach Luvenia Long. "But, I didn't think we would go that low."

Ware and Deal were members of the foursome which had set the previous medley record.

In other events, Madison's 400 relay team (Ware, Deal, Griggs and Sheila Marshall) took second. Harper took third in the long jump. Chelsea Smith was fourth in the 400.

Davenport was third in the 200 while Marshall took fifth for Madison. Madison's 1,600 meter relay team grabbed first place in the rain with a time of 4:25.7.

NOTES: Madison placed third for the second year in a row, but increased its total points scored (31) by one from last year. There were just two new meet records set in the girls division. The other was by Johnson in the 800.

VA work program does not affect benefits

Commander Robert (Bob) Kennerly announced at the April meeting of Chapter 53, Disabled American Veterans, that a notice sent by the VA to 160 percent disabled veterans who are unable to work has caused concern.

The notice was intended to advise those veterans of the availability of a work program that gives them an opportunity to work without affecting their 100 percent compensation. It further advised them that VA counseling services are available to help them find a job.

However, the notice made it appear that these veterans must enroll in this program or face losing their benefits, Kennerly said, adding: "This is not true. In fact, in most cases, the veteran's response to the offer is voluntary. If any veteran has questions concerning this notice, he or she may contact Lee Reid, (314) 652-4100, extension 306, Monday through Thursday between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m."

Kennerly recommended reading of an article in the April issue of the DAV magazine, written by National Director of Service Charles E. Jockel. Vietnam veterans should be particularly interested, he added.

A service officer will be at the DAV, 1417 19th St., each Tuesday to help veterans obtain free hunting and fishing license. The old licenses expired March 31, it was noted.

Larry Lockhart reported that Larry Hughes of Collinsville died and Bill Knucha has moved back to the Jefferson Barracks Hospital from a nursing home in Belleville.

Donations were approved for Junior Achievement, the March of Dimes and the American Cancer Society.

Joe Hefferly reported the membership stands at 432. He said a testimonial dinner will be held in Chicago to honor State Commander Harold Blackman.

Lawrence McGuire reported on a meeting he attended in March in Decatur. Lunch was prepared and served by George Krpan and Ed Roberts.

Spring plans can aid summertime enjoyment

Spring is being called an opportune time for families to do a little "indoor gardening" and plant the seeds of a successful summer, both as a family and individually.

"A family that takes the time now to thoughtfully plan and organize family and individual activities can enjoy a more productive, purposeful summer," says Kathryn Cramer, Ph.D., a psychologist and director of Healthline Corporate Health Services at the St. Louis University Medical Center.

"With the onset of spring, we begin almost immediately to plan for the months ahead. Unfortunately, family members often plan independently of one another. The premium opportunity for the family to enjoy events together is overlooked as the individual's activities are overlooked. Although it may be unintentional, the family functions become secondary," she said.

"A little extra effort on behalf of all the family members can produce an agreeable calendar of events the whole family can appreciate both together and apart. The planning can help eliminate the confusion of conflicting commitments, and leave the heated discussions to the weatherman."

Village officials optimistic about obtaining GM plant

By SUSANNE INDELICATO Staff writer

Could the village of Pontoon Beach be the site for the General Motors Rural Minorities Board President Glen Wilson thinks so.

On March 11, Wilson said, he submitted a plan of a proposed site to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs. "I thought we got a good reception. Mr. (Thomas) Hamrick (of the DCCA) was impressed with the site, and I think we've got a good chance. I think we're still in the running."

THE PROPOSED site submitted by Pontoon Beach officials is the Gordon Gass property between Pontoon Road and I-270. The site contains approximately 1,050 acres.

A letter from DCCA Director Michael T. Wolfert also offered encouragement to Pontoon Beach officials. The letter was read to the village board during its Tuesday night meeting.

Wolfert said that on March 19, a delegation of Illinois representatives including Senator Alan Dixon, Congressman Robert Michael, Illinois House Minority Leader Lee Daniels, and Illinois Senate President Philip Rock met with GM Chairman Roger Smith and Saturn Corporation President William Hoggland.

ACCORDING TO Wolfert, the GM officials said that Illinois had provided the best presentation to date by a state delegation. They also denied rumors that GM would locate the plant in Texas. A decision, they added, will be made sometime in June.

Following the reading of the letter, Wilson told the village board that, in addition to the plan of the proposed site, he has submitted various reasons why the site should appeal to GM.

The site is near two railroads (the Norfolk and Western, and the Alton & Southern), it is near two commercial airports and Lambert International Airport, the utilities to the site are extendable, there are several colleges and state universities in the area, there are sufficient public education resources and community programs, and the village is near a metropolitan area.

BUT PONTON BEACH is not the only proposed site in this region. The Southwestern Leadership Council is proposing four sites in Madison and St. Clair counties.

Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Executive Vice President James Pennekamp said the Leadership Council "looked at the sites we had information on. We reviewed all those, and by elimination, it came down to those that met or exceeded the criteria GM submitted to us. That doesn't mean, though, that there aren't other sites out there."

Pontoon Beach, he said, decided to submit a site as an independent effort. "Do they have a chance? Who knows? I think it's encouraging that they're pursuing this."

"ONE OF THE criteria DCCA submitted is that anything in a floodplain or levee area, they're not interested in," he said, adding that there may be some "flooding tendencies" with the Pontoon Beach site.

Pennekamp said sites submitted by the Leadership Council were along Interstate 55-70 near Troy and Glen Carbon, adjacent to the Belle Valley Industrial Park in Belleville and at Interstate 64 and Route 158 near O'Fallon.

"One of the eliminating criteria hitting this area very hard was the floodplain," he said. "The sites we reported on and submitted to the governor were, in our opinion, the best sites in the area."

IN ADDITION, East St. Louis Mayor Carl Officer has offered a site in his city, and the Norfolk & Southern Corp., owner of Norfolk & Western Railway, has a site proposed in this area.

Granite City did not submit plans, since GM's rule prohibits building in any floodplain area, even if it is protected by a levee.

DCCA has delivered 100 proposals for sites in more than 80 Illinois communities to GM officials. Originally, 79 communities and organizations submitted 179 site proposals, but DCCA officials eliminated those proposals which failed to meet GM's minimum site standards.

MADISON AND St. Clair county officials have been quoted as saying their county incentives—not including private assistance or aid from the state or other governmental bodies—total more than $60 million.

In addition, Governor James Thompson has said the state will match or exceed any other state's offer of incentives for the plant.

The auto assembly plant is expected to employ 6,000 persons, and GM officials have said they would prefer a site that is within a 50- to 60-mile radius of a major university that excels in engineering, robotics, and communication.

GM also wants the new site to have dual rail service, although sites with only single-rail service still are being considered.

IN ADDITION, the site should be able to handle an increase in population and should be near a community with a good quality of life and a full range of community services.

After GM announced the Saturn proposal, Illinois was the first state to contact the big auto company and express an interest in bringing the new plant to the state. Input from Illinois communities then was sought through a series of public briefings around the state.

Saturn, the first new GM division since 1918, is being promoted as a new concept in automobile manufacturing. The subcompact Saturn auto is intended to compete directly with Japanese cars in cost, fuel efficiency and dependability.

Woman sergeant in massive Army training exercise

Team Spirit 85 in the area of Seoul, site of the Korean-U.S. Combined Forces Command, is the largest field training exercise to be held in the Free World this year.

Taking place on a small, mountainous peninsula nearly halfway around the world from Granite City, it is nevertheless of much interest here. Army Sergeant Shellie A. Brown, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Ann Brown, of Granite City, is there doing her part to make it a success.

Brown, 25, a radio operator and communications sergeant with Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 25th Infantry Division, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, has joined 200,000 Republic of Korea and U.S. military personnel of all services in the deployment, reception and employment of the forces of both countries, responding to possible contingencies in the Korean theater.

Korea and America share a friendship more than a century old, cemented by a strong military alliance that has grown steadily since the U.S. spearheaded United Nations forces responding to an attack by North Korea in 1950.

Although both sides agreed to cease hostilities with the signing of an armistice agreement on July 27, 1953, the Korean War has "never really ended," a spokesman for the Combined Forces Command told the Press-Record.

"The peace that remains, legally only a military armistice, is tenuous and has often been marked by incidents provoked by North Korea."

The Command provides deterrent forces to maintain the peace. Based in the capital city, the CFC is the only fully-integrated bi-national command in which the U.S. Army is involved.

To operate effectively as a joint (more than one military service), combined (more than one service command), it has set up components prepared to fight together as a team.

ARMY SERGEANT SHELLIE A. BROWN

The Pentagon term for it is "interoperability, and this key to successful coalition warfare is stressed at every level.

To evaluate and improve techniques and procedures, the two countries began conducting an annual exercise called Team Spirit in 1976.

Arnold, an aircraft maintenance specialist with the 52nd Aircraft Generation Squadron, was previously assigned at Minot Air Force Base, N.D.

He is a 1980 graduate of Granite City High School South.

RAYMOND MOSBY

Pfc. Raymond V. Mosby, son of George and Beatrice L. Mosby, 215A Terry St., Eagle Park, has completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.J.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid and Army history and traditions.

He is a 1982 graduate of Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville.

KEITH ROWLETT

Marine Pvt. Keith L. Rowlett, son of Robert H. and Edna G. Rowlett, 4116 Rode Ave., recently reported for duty with the 1st Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

THOMAS NANCE

Thomas D. Nance, son of Kenneth R. and Connie E. Mitchell, 1367 Norwood Drive, has been promoted to the rank of specialist five.

Nance is an administrative specialist at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. The specialist is to the rank of specialist five.

His wife, Beverly, is the daughter of Joel W. and Betty J. Tester, 4028 Vesca Ave. The specialist is a 1980 graduate of Granite City High School North.

SIUE experimental theater is named

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees has approved naming the Student Experimental Theater building on the SIU at Edwardsville campus in honor of the late James F. Metcalf, who was budget director of SIUE when he died May 31, 1984.

University officers said the designation was recommended because of Metcalf's "lifetime of dedicated service to the university and his particular interest in the student theater."

Metcalf served SIUE in a number of administrative positions for more than 27 years. He joined the university staff in 1956 and came to the Edwardsville campus as division chief auditor in 1963. He became director

Fire protection water charges may change

Illinois-American Water Co. has filed tariffs to change the manner in which it charges for fire protection service.

The tariffs comply with the order of the Illinois Commerce Commission following state legislation requiring the changes last August. The law becomes effective July 1, 1985.

The new tariff law will not increase the company's overall income, but it could increase the water bills for some customers.

Under the new law, fire protection districts or municipalities could choose to pay only part of the current charges, or none at all. People living in areas which chose not to pay any or only part of the current charges could find their monthly bill higher.

R.W. Graves, manager of the Interurban District of Illinois-American Water Co. said, "This filing should not be confused with the application for a general rate increase which we expect to file within the next few weeks."

"However, if during those proceedings evidence shows that further increases are needed to bring public fire service closer to its true cost, it is possible that the company's block rates would change accordingly."

Action by the commission on the proposed tariff is expected soon, to allow the company to set up billing procedures before the July 1 deadline.

Through the years, it has become a valuable tool to exercise, train and evaluate commanders, staffs and forces in a joint combined environment. The spokesman said.

For U.S. forces deploying from outside the Republic, the focus is on testing how well the basic concept works. The concept is defined as "large-scale augmentation dealing with emergency situations."

Included are the logistics involved in rapidly deploying large numbers of personnel and equipment over long distances, acclimating the personnel and equipment, and integrating them into the joint combined mode of operations.

Starting with strategic deployment in early February, out-of-country units were received by ROK and U.S. host bases—many of them tent cities—to prepare for tactical deployment to the field in late February and early March.

Major field training maneuvers were staged during March. After that remained monumental tasks related to cleaning up the equipment, sending it all back, and returning the troops and vessels to home stations.

Throughout, the Korean people have expressed their appreciation through tours, home visitation and cultural programs.

Troops marching to the field found entire towns turned out on the streets to welcome them, or farmers along the way with offers of a warm fire and a hot cup of tea.

The Granite Cityan commented, "The Korean people are very nice and polite, perhaps even more so than Americans."

Big events like an amphibious assault exercise, a river crossing, aircraft highway landings and a live-fire weapons exercise may dominate press reports, she said. But what she will remember the most are "the demanding training, our military comradeship, and the warmth and kindness of the people in this 'land of the morning calm.'"

Mitchell news

Missy Colbert was honored with a bridal shower at the Faith Chapel General Baptist Church in Mitchell on April 13. She will be married to Jeff Hickman on May 17.

A blue and white decorated cake centered the refreshment table, where punch, coffee and cake were served.

Those attending included their mothers, Mrs. Lucy Colbert and Mrs. Arlene Hickman, and Mrs. Judy Edton, Jeff's grandmother.

Others present were Thelma Moreland, Jeri Schieb, Helen Hickman, Virginia Venable, Gladys Shands, Stella Tegel, Pat Braman, Cynthia Tucker, Lisa Worley, Nancy, Shelly and Mandy Colbert, Maxine Dubeau, an open case of beer and a cigarette box containing two cannabis cigarettes. A plastic bag containing cannabis was also found in the couple's pocket. It was alleged. He was released after posting $52 bail.

Mrs. Alta Routh has returned home from St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she spent a week for observation and treatment.

CANNABIS, BEER CHARGES

A 16-year-old Granite City youth standing with a group of youths around an auto in the parking lot of the Granite City Bowl on Nameoki Road April 19 was charged with possession of cannabis and transportation of alcohol. The group walked away from a vehicle in which police alleged they found an open case of beer and a cigarette box containing two cannabis cigarettes. A plastic bag containing cannabis was also found in the couple's pocket. It was alleged. He was released after posting $52 bail.

of business services in 1966, director of finance in 1968, and budget director and controller in 1971. During two periods, 1976-1977 and 1980-1981, he served as acting vice-president for business affairs at SIUE.

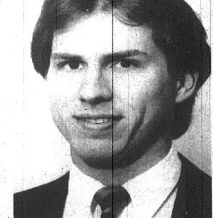

A tribute approved by the Board stated:

"James Metcalf's knowledge of state and institutional finance and his diligence, ingenuity, and foresight were instrumental in the development of SIUE, especially in connection with the campus' physical facilities. Within the institution, his understanding and appreciation of the needs and aspirations of students were equally important. Many, both students and staff alike, found a friend, mentor, adviser and supporter in James Metcalf."

The Student Experimental Theater, a new building on the west side of the academic core area, was opened in the spring of 1984.

APARTMENT BURGLARIZED

An apartment at 4014 Maryland Minor Apartments was burglarized sometime between April 11 and April 23. The apartment of Lillian Crawford was entered by someone who forced open a door and removed a microwave oven, a color television and jewelry. The family was away on vacation.

Reading emphasis by Webster PTA

Students at Webster School are joining millions of other youngsters throughout the United States to celebrate Reading is Fun Week. Mae Werner, president of the Webster Parent-Teacher Association, has been working with committees to get books ready for RIF distribution at Webster Friday, April 26.

Reading is Fundamental is a non-profit organization that helps local communities motivate young people to read by giving away books. Students have used the RIF books for classroom projects, maps and posters.

It will be the third RIF distribution this year at Webster. The Webster PTA was the first with an RIF project in Granite City and it has given away over 8,400 books to students since the project began in 1978.

Balloons, book bags, bookmarks and additional books are among the "extras" to be given to students tomorrow.

Also, the PTA will award the Margaret McNamara certificate to an RIF reader who has been especially helpful in encouraging students to read.

ARREST 2 GC MEN AFTER CAHOKIA MAN IS BEATEN

Responding to a call of a man being beaten in the 4700 block of Kirkpatrick Homes April 20, officers found a Cahokia man, Tom Bailey, whose face was covered with blood, lying on the ground. His wife was caring for him.

The victim pointed out Bryon A. Cronin, 19, of 2808 Kirkpatrick and Russell D. Pierson, 21, of 2808 Kirkpatrick, alleging they were involved in the beating; they were arrested for battery. He said a third man had left.

Bailey then ran at the pair, with Pierson and Cronch attempting to pull away from him. Two officers holding them. Force was used to put the two in squad cars. Bailey was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, but a report noted he declined treatment and left there.

The 1985-86 Pontoon Beach budget is $1,380 more than the current budget.

According to the budget ordinance approved Tuesday, village officials expect expenditures of $337,110 during the 1985-86 fiscal year beginning May 1. The 1984-85 budget was $295,730.

THE NEW BUDGET shows expenditures of $321,100 from the general fund, an increase of $41,330 over the last budget. Of the general fund costs, $38,780 will for village administration, while $282 are earmarked for the police department.

Increases include village board pay and expenses (an increase of $4,800) and police salaries and taxes (up $7,450). Other items expected to increase are legal expenses, zoning costs, ambulance costs, employee benefits and miscellaneous expenses.

The federal revenue sharing budget shows projected expenses of $16,010 in 1985-86, compared to $15,900 in 1984-85.

IN OTHER MATTERS Tuesday, Trustee Don Rea told the board that the finance and ordinance committees should meet to investigate the possibility of joining the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund. Rea said the village may become a participant only on the first day of any given year. The application, he added, must be submitted by Oct. 1.

The board granted a business license to Ray Sawyer for an annual carnival April 29 through May 4. The carnival will be set up in the parking lot of Oakmont Plaza at 4060 Pontoon Road.

A business license was granted to James Doolin and Ben McMillon, who want to set up an electrical and general contracting business at 3720 Pontoon Road.

EASTGATE STREET in the Georgetown development was vacated by the board, while action on Westgate Street was tabled. Both streets are platted but never have been constructed.

Clerk Mary Warren announced there will be a rabies clinic on the village hall parking lot from 3 to 4:30 p.m. May 11. The cost for inoculations is $6.

Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner W. Lee Adams told the village board there is a "water problem" along Pontoon Road from Ronnie's Snoco station to Route 11. He asked that the board send a letter to state highway officials asking them to clean out the ditch.

"WE'VE GOT A blockage there," he said. "It's been clogged up since January."

Adams also told the board he will assist the village in a "clean-up day" in which household items, tree limbs and other debris are picked up by the highway department.

Holy Land tour set for June 11

The Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor of Nameoki Presbyterian Church, will serve as guide for a tour of the Holy Land scheduled for June 11. He has guided five previous trips to the area of Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Jericho and the Sea of Galilee.

Persons interested in details of the tour, which will leave New York June 11, are contacting Rev. Pierson at 877-4470 or 797-0507.

"Actually, it has never been safer in Israel than it is now. It is far safer for people to walk the streets of Jerusalem at night than it is to walk in broad daylight on the streets of some metropolitan cities in this country," Rev. Pierson said.

Venice kindergarten registration, screening of children scheduled

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

Kindergarten registration for the 1985-86 school year will be held at the Venice Elementary School on Thursday and Friday, May 2 and May 3, from 8:30 a.m. until 11 a.m.

Early childhood screening also is scheduled on May 2 and May 3 in conjunction with registering new kindergarten pupils.

Children who will attain the age of 5 years by Dec. 1, 1985, will be eligible to register for kindergarten classes.

A birth certificate and immunization record are to be presented at the time of registration. These records must be presented to school officials before actual attendance can begin in the fall, Seth Kirkpatrick, Venice Grade School principal, explained.

Physical and dental examinations are also required before a child can start kindergarten, he explained. The physical examination must be done after May 2, but before Aug. 26, in order to be acceptable for the 1985-86 school year, the principal said.

Forms for the physical and dental examinations will be distributed at the time of registration. Illinois law states that no child may enter school for the first time without the following immunizations: whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, polio, measles, rubella (3-day measles).

During registration, the school nurse will be available to explain health regulations to parents and also to review the immunization records.

Questions concerning the registration may be voiced by calling Venice Grade School at 877-5960.

Vision and hearing, speech and language, cognitive skills and gross motor development will be checked in the early childhood screening program.

Any child between 3 and 5 years old is eligible for the screening, Kirkpatrick said. He explained the service is free and takes about 30 to 60 minutes.

Storytellers featured at festival

"Frontiers and Passages: A Touch of Truth and A Dash of Dreams" is the theme for the sixth annual Storytelling Festival, scheduled Thursday through Sunday, May 2 through May 5, by Continuing Education Extension of the University of Missouri-St. Louis at the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial Gateway Arch.

Storytelling sessions are scheduled from 10 a.m. to 2:45 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and from 11 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. There will be a special evening performance beginning at 7 p.m. on Saturday in the Arch auditorium featuring the storytellers, to be followed by traditional dancing at 8:30 p.m. in the Arch lobby.

All storytelling events are open to the public and free of charge. School and group reservations are necessary for the Thursday and Friday scheduled tellings and may be made by calling 1-314-425-6010.

Groups are encouraged to make reservations early due to limited space.

Tellers will gather from across America to share tales at the four-day event. Kathryn Tucker Windham, a ghost teller from Alabama, will be at the festival to add the charm of southern legends. Ed Sunderburg of California specializes in American-Scandinavian tales. Other tellers will include Sandy Reitz of Montana and Syd Lieberman of Chicago.

Many well-known St. Louis tellers will also be performing during the festival, including Irene Evoland, Ruthilde Kronberg, Sue Hinkel, Anne Harrison and Lynn Rubright. Ken Alexander also will present stories for the hearing impaired.

Additional performances are planned in the Arch auditorium and the Old Courthouse directly across from the Arch. Printed time schedules marked with sessions for the hearing impaired will be available at the festival.

One-stop center to aid new firms

A new state center to answer questions by entrepreneurs intending to start a new business has been created, according to State Rep. Sam Wolf of Granite City. It should be fully operational by June and will be managed by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

"Even though the center is not yet open, business people can have access to information by calling a toll-free number, 1-800-252-2923," Wolf said. "This center will provide information and answer questions on a wide variety of topics."

Business people can obtain information on 10 subjects, including permits, business financing, tax incentives, financial assistance for employee training, unemployment and workers' compensation insurance, patents, copyrights and registering trademarks.

"People are often overwhelmed by the number of government agencies, the rules and the red tape they must deal with when starting a new business. Therefore, many are discouraged and don't even try," Wolf said. "This one-stop center will help alleviate those fears and frustrations and generate the creation of new businesses throughout the state. Help is at our fingertips, and the best part of the program is that it is free."

"People like to listen," says Ron Turner, originator of the St. Louis Storytelling Festival and chairman of the festival planning committee. "Storytelling provides a worthwhile and creative listening opportunity that people find refreshing in an age dominated by technology-based communication."

"The teller and the listener form a partnership as the listener gathers new impressions of self-awareness and experiences deeper insight into other cultures. In this way, stories create windows through which people can gain a shared glimpse of their humanity from a new perspective."

GCC art students learn to depict worlds of images

Art students at Belleville Area College's (BAC) Granite City Center (GCC) learn to depict images of their world through a variety of media — from charcoal and pencil drawings to oil and watercolor paintings to plaster casts.

Art instructors, Bob Moskowitz and his wife, Margie Joffe, have been at GCC since the center opened two years ago. Under their direction, GCC's art program has expanded.

"We started with two sections — a class on drawing and Understanding the Arts," Moskowitz said. "We have now added several sections of basic design, painting, drawing and advertising art classes."

Moskowitz, who has a master's degree in fine arts from Washington University in St. Louis and a four-year certificate from the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in Philadelphia, said he became interested in art as a child.

"My father was an artist," he said. "He did comic-book art. I used to stand by his drawing table and watch him work."

"He did a lot of horror comics in the '50s. When we moved to Philadelphia he started doing the layout for both the newspapers there."

"I enjoy teaching arts," he said. "I really enjoy the students I teach at GCC."

"People surprise themselves. They are amazed at what they can do."

"In the Basic Design class students learn the fundamentals of two-dimensional art, including color," he said. "After learning about lines, value, shape, texture and color theory, and how color works, students are given a final project which utilizes these skills."

"The final project is to copy a famous painting by using only primary colors (red, blue, yellow, black and white)," he said. "Then they do the same painting in complementary colors (green, orange and purple)."

"Most of the students do a phenomenal job of duplicating the original," he said.

In the Design II class, his students recently worked in groups of three or four to do a life-size human sculpture by making plaster casts of student volunteers.

Painting students learn several specific approaches.

"I think it is important to acknowledge the history and techniques that have been used and proven for hundreds of years," he said. "If they do the same painting in their own ways."

In GCC's drawing classes, they work on basic drawing techniques, such as line, form, and shading in charcoal and pencil.

"We work on perspective so that the top of a box doesn't look like it is flying off," he said. "I teach students how to make objects the same size look different if on is farther away and how to make telephone poles look equal distance apart by using formulas."

Students learn to do layouts for magazines and newspapers and how to design type, letterheads and posters in the Advertising Design class.

The classes are not only informative, but also enjoyable, Moskowitz said.

"Classes are amiable and relaxing," he said. "Students even bring their friends."

"After seeing the work of the art students, their friends become interested in the classes and end up staying, I think I can do this."

He recruits a lot of new art students that way, he said.

Moskowitz tries to get his students to visit museums to get a better understanding of the arts.

By being exposed to the arts more, students can absorb more, he said. Even his 3-year-old daughter, Jenny, has picked up artistic terms by being around her parents.

"Jenny can look at a sculpture and know to call it a sculpture," he said. "She also knows what polyester resin is."

Moskowitz and his wife live in Olivette and have five daughters. They are Linda, 21, Nancy, 19, Laura, 13, Jenny, 2, and Rachel, 10 months.

PLASTER CAST. Art students at Granite City Center make a life-sized plaster cast of Darryl Lewis of Lovejoy (center), who volunteered to serve as a model for the art project. Deadline for financial aid draws near

The preferential filing date for campus-based financial aid for the 1985-86 academic year at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is May 1.

The campus-based programs affected by the May 1 date include the College Work Study, National Direct Student Loan and Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant Program. Applications received after May 1 will still be considered, subject to the availability of funds.

In addition, the deadline for Illinois State Scholarship (ISSC) Monetary Awards for the 1985-86 academic year for upperclassmen and continuing students is June 1. The deadline for students who have not previously attended college is Oct. 1.

John Jennetten, director of the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance at the university, pointed out that it would be wise for both new and continuing students to make application immediately. "It is possible that the funds for the ISSC program may be exhausted before the Oct. 1 deadline," he said.

The financial aid officer also urged students who may have been turned down last year to reapply for assistance as soon as possible. "The formula upon which ISSC eligibility is determined has undergone significant change this year, making more SIUE students eligible for awards. Students who may have been turned down last year, may be eligible for awards this year," Jennetten said.

Center for domestic violence victims being established here

What do a letter carrier, artist, police officer, drug counselor, accountant, widow and teacher have in common? A concern for abused women and youngsters.

The concern has sparked the beginning of Phoenix Crisis Center, a not-for-profit facility for victims of domestic violence. The hoped-for dream of the local group includes a 24-hour telephone hotline, professional counseling and, eventually, housing.

The first fund-raising event is to be a "cut-a-thon" at the Magic Touch Hair Salon, 4 Nameoki Village Shopping Center, on Sunday, May 5, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. An adult haircut will be $8, and the charge for children is $5.50.

Members of the newly-organized group include Maxine Hoelter, administrator, and Carol Chiappa, on-site coordinator and assistant administrator.

Others on the board include Rita Blum, secretary, Barbara Reedy, treasurer, Officer Richard Ballaw of the Madison Police Department, Karen Birchler, art and advertising chairman, and Connie McGee, publicity chairman.

Many agencies are represented by the nine members of the center's Advisory Council.

Any organization interested in helping victims of domestic violence may write to: Phoenix Crisis Center, Box 212, Granite City, and request a speaker.

A spokesman commented, "Many readers of local newspapers, hot line counselors, social workers and police officers are well aware of the need for assistance from the community for victims of abuse."

"The Phoenix Crisis Center confidently aims at bringing hope for 'new beginnings' to women and children in need of housing or professional counseling."

Nameoki clerk's salary changed

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

Staff writer
The salary for the Nameoki town clerk in 1985-86 was lowered to its current level, through action by the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees Monday night.

According to the resolution, Town Clerk Donald "Lee" Ridgeway will earn $7,535 during the first year of his new term, which begins May 6. That is the same salary Ridgeway presently earns.

THE RESOLUTION further states that Ridgeway will receive $8,225 during the second year, $8,925 the third year and $9,625 the final year of his four-year term.

Township Supervisor Harry Briggs explained that the new salary schedule corrects a "mistake" in a salary schedule passed by the board March 25. That action would have given the clerk an $800 increase during the first year of his term.

At the March meeting, Briggs had said all salaries for elected officials had been frozen, but township officials later discovered that they had given the clerk a raise.

BRIGGS SAID the town board could amend the clerk's future salary, as long as Ridgeway had no objections.

Trustee Helen Hawkins told Briggs she had warned him that the board had given the clerk and the assessor pay increases when salary schedules were passed in March. Briggs admitted that the assessor's salary will increase from its current $10,800 to $12,300, but pointed out the increase won't go into effect until the assessor begins his new term on Jan. 1, 1986.

ALL OTHER township officials received pay freezes the first year of the next term, with increases in the second, third and fourth years. In other matters, Briggs announced that rabies clinics will be conducted from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Saturday, May 11, at the township garage, 4250 Highway 162, and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, May 18, at the State Park Place Fire Department, 3218 Arlington St.

A cheese distribution is set for today, April 25, at the township office, Briggs added.

BRIGGS ALSO reminded residents to keep their pets on a leash or in a pen. "We've got a leash law, but a lot of people are letting their dogs run loose now. We're getting complaints from neighbors and people whose dogs we've picked up."

Another matter concerning township has school buses. The use of three-wheeled motorcycles on the streets. He remarked, "The kids can be picked up for this, and then they can't get their license until they're 18."

"Parents should tell their children to keep the bikes confined to the yard or their property. Every year at this time we have the same occurrence."

Trustee Joseph Garcia noted he has received telephone calls complaining about tall grass. Garcia warned residents that the township can issue notices to people who neglect to cut their grass. If the notices are ignored, property owners can be cited for refusing to mow their lawns.

GARCIA ALSO SAID some residents are pumping water out of their basements and letting it drain into the roads.

Briggs said he had contacted several officials about it, and added: "It's supposed to be non-polluted water, so there's nothing we can do to stop it. The only thing is in the winter, it freezes on the road."

The board received thanks from Marianne Dornier for its $1,200 donation from revenue sharing funds. The contribution went to the Rape and Sexual Abuse Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The board was informed of a meeting of Madison County township officials set for 7:30 p.m. today at the Edwardsville Township building. The speaker is Supervisor of Assessments Robert Harris.

Court case backlog grows

Madison County Circuit Court Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell reports that the Circuit Court, Third Judicial Circuit (Madison and Bond counties), fell behind in its caseload last month.

During March, he noted in his report to the Supreme Court Administrator's Office, 4,881 cases were filed and 4,362 were terminated by the court, resulting in an increase of more than 500 cases in the backlog.

The only gain was in the large law cases, where 28 were filed, two were reinstated, 35 were transferred from non-jury and 87 were terminated," Portell noted. Although the court is behind in its consideration of other cases, Portell feels those cases will not be time-consuming.

Following are the numbers of each major type of case filed, terminated and pending at the end of March.

Cases	Filed	Terminated	Pending
Jury	26	87	1741
Non-jury	70	30	615
Jury	6	31	260
Non-jury	41	75	573
Chancery	41	18	377
Miscellaneous Remedy	25	48	256
Eminent Domain	15	4	68
Mental Health	1	1	6
Divorce	122	121	1113
Family	228	185	2205
Juvenile	66	40	425
Felony	43	23	132
Misdemeanor	452	361	3607
Small Claims	536	425	2157
Totals	1,788	1,547	13,495

In the traffic division, 2,659 new cases were filed during March and 2,509 were terminated, the report shows.

Of the 65 felony cases heard during the month, 41 persons were convicted of felonies, one case was dismissed or transferred, 22 were dismissed or consolidated and one was reduced to a misdemeanor or a plea was negotiated.

Guilty pleas during March included two for Class X felonies, two for Class 1 felonies, 16 for Class 2 felonies, 17 for Class 3 felonies and two for Class 4 felonies. Jury convictions included one murder case and one Class X felony.

Felony sentencings during the month included 10 persons sent to prison, 17 receiving probation or conditional discharge with periodic imprisonment, and 14 receiving probation or conditional discharge with other discretionary conditions.

Recount planned in Madison ward

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

Andrew Economy, 1st Ward alderman in Madison, asked the Madison City Council on Tuesday night to approve his call for a vote recount of the April 2 election. He apparently lost the council post to James Hillmer by a 16-vote margin, and the new officials are scheduled to be seated next month.

Economy requested that the votes in Venice Township Precincts 6, 8 and 9 be recounted.

With the council's approval, the city attorney, Casper Nighobosian, and John Bellco, mayor-elect and the current city clerk, will meet with Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles in Edwardsville to conduct the recount. Economy said he will assume the responsibility for all costs involved.

A LETTER to Bellco from South-Western Cable TV Ltd. requested payment of $18,808 for work and equipment related to installation of the present cable system in Madison.

A previous letter and bill were sent to the former mayor, Mike Sasyk, on Dec. 10, 1984, and after a discussion by members of the city administration the bill was not approved at that time.

On Tuesday night, Fire Chief Michael Maccek was asked to explain the issue to the council. He said he did not agree that the cable plant needed all the work done on it that South-Western contends was required. The city had set up cable facilities that it sold to South-Western, the top bidder.

IN RESPONSE to the topic, Alderman Don Garrett said the cable company had ample time to inspect the system before buying it. If the council presented the issue, then the city is not responsible for any further charges, Garrett told the council.

Although the new general manager, William Rougely of South-Western Cable, said in his communication that an attorney feels the company is entitled to reimbursement, the council members did not agree.

The aldermen accorded recognition to LaVonne Jordan for his "heroic and fast action" in aiding a man involved in a gasoline explosion on April 11. Acting Mayor Thomas Gordon presented the young man with a certificate for a "humanitarian act that probably saved the man's life."

THE COUNCIL AGREED to annex 60 acres of unincorporated territory bounded by the City of Madison and the City of Granite City in the vicinity of McCormick Avenue and Edwardsville Road.

Aldermen also approved an ordinance providing for an additional five fire hydrants in the city. Installations will be made on the southwest corner of McCormick and Plum Street and at four locations in the vicinity of Alternate Route 67, the ordinance said.

One hydrant will be 1,500 feet west of Mueller Road, another 800 feet west of Mueller, a third on the southwest corner of Ohio Street and another at the termination point of a new 12-inch water main the city hopes to install south of Madison.

A report submitted by Shirley Greer, director of a human services project, noted that 63 cases were reviewed. All were referred to appropriate agencies for assistance and 90 percent of the cases were resolved.

GRANITE CITY Fire Chief Don Parente in a letter commended the Madison Fire Department for its assistance at a recent tanker spill on Illinois Route 3 and added that the Granite City department will reciprocate if needed by Madison fire.

A resignation by John Piechowski as a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals, was accepted by the council.

Alderman William Gushleff informed the council that the Madison Lions Club is tentatively planning to sponsor a fireworks display this summer and is interested in the opinions of citizens on whether they would be interested in such a program.

A MONTHLY REPORT of the Madison Police Department indicated a 41 percent increase in crimes in March, as compared to March 1984. Fines collected totaled $2,055.

In March 1984 there were four assault and battery cases, as compared to 13 in 1983; six burglaries, compared to eight; 12 thefts, compared to five; and no auto thefts, compared to five reported last month.

Man charged in firebomb attempt at Hope Clinic

William Lanning, 30, of 2420 Adams St. was arrested by Granite City police April 15 and has been charged with possession of explosives or an incendiary device, after he allegedly attempted to firebomb the Hope Clinic, 2050 Iowa St.

A security guard at the clinic said he noticed a car traveling behind the facility, and then saw it move the wrong way on Iowa Street, a one-way street, before turning east on 21st Street.

The guard next saw the same vehicle pass the clinic at a high rate of speed and heard a bottle crash near the building.

Police officers were summoned and a soft-drink bottle was found near the curb of the street. The bottle contained a rag in its neck and the cloth smelled strongly of gasoline, they related.

Lanning allegedly then drove by the facility and policemen stopped his vehicle, placing him under arrest. They said a soda can with a handkerchief sticking out of the top was found in Lanning's car.

Lanning's bond was set at $25,000 by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill. He was turned over to federal authorities.

NII company to run insolvent thrift firm

First Nationwide Savings, which is 60 percent owned by National Intergroup Inc., one of the owners of National Steel and Granite City Steel, has been hired under a management contract to oversee operations of the new Beverly Hills Federal Savings & Loan Association.

The Federal Home Loan Bank west of Mueller, a third on the southwest corner of Ohio Street and another at the termination point of a new 12-inch water main the city hopes to install south of Madison.

A report submitted by Shirley Greer, director of a human services project, noted that 63 cases were reviewed. All were referred to appropriate agencies for assistance and 90 percent of the cases were resolved.

Questions over the salary given to the next Granite City superintendent of schools continued to be raised at the April 23 board meeting.

Board Member David Partney read a prepared statement in response to a statement made by fellow board member Monroe Worthen at the April 9 meeting.

Worthen questioned the board's decision to set a $55,000 minimum salary for a new superintendent. He felt the board could have done better by leaving the salary open. Worthen also indicated he might have preferred choosing a new superintendent from within the district.

Dr. Max Redmond of Hayti, Mo., was named the new superintendent April 3 and he will start work here June 1, advancing to the superintendent post July 1. Supt. Frank Kraus is retiring June 30.

"I was perplexed to note that my colleague on the school board, an accountant, felt the board erred in the appointment of Dr. Max Redmond at his salary of $55,000 per year," Partney said. "For many years, previous boards have been criticized for political appointing of superintendents. The board has followed the recommendations of the neutral experts representing the Illinois Association of School Boards."

Worthen questioned whether that search committee was really neutral, saying one of the members was a superintendent and another formerly was a superintendent.

"I hope we can come up with something for the other employees this year," he said. "But for now, I don't want to beat this thing to death. Let's put it aside and work on the problem."

Partney said Wednesday the last comment did not mean he would be out to "get" Worthen in the school board election. "That just meant the people will decide who is right and who is wrong," he said.

Miosky said Redmond had stated he would not ask for a raise unless other employees get raises.

"I hope we can come up with something for the other employees this year," he said. "But for now, I don't want to beat this thing to death. Let's put it aside and work on the problem."

Partney said the district had previously been paying both a superintendent and an assistant superintendent a total of $88,000 in salary and related costs. "But when Frank Kraus moved from assistant to the head office last summer, the assistant's spot was eliminated."

"I'm not an accountant, but even I can figure if Dr. Redmond makes $55,000, we will be saving our taxpayers over $43,000 a year," Partney said.

He added that he had done studies and found the $55,000 salary to be not out of line. In fact, he said, it might even be low.

The Belleville High School District, with an enrollment of 4,100 students, pays its superintendent $60,000, he reported.

"Our district boasts 650 employees and a budget of $26.5 million," Partney said. "No corporation of that scope would expect to hire its chief executive for less than $55,000."

"I know our selection followed an extensive and intensive search. In November, the people will have the opportunity to vindicate and reward that effort."

ALLEGED YOUTHS IN AUTO HAVE CANNABIS

Called to a drive-in restaurant in the 3400 block of Nameoki Road at 10:45 a.m. Friday, officers found Paul J. Cox, 17, of 2808 National Ave. a 15-year-old youth and another person seated in an auto.

A plastic bag containing what appeared to be cannabis was on the floorboard of the car and Cox and the 15-year-old were both charged with unlawful possession of cannabis. The third person was released without charges.

In a court appearance at 1:50 p.m. Friday, both Cox and the juvenile pleaded innocent and were released on their own recognizance, pending a further hearing.
